Creator Information: Alonzo L. McDonald
Alonzo L. McDonald Jr. was born August 5, 1928, in Atlanta, Georgia. He graduated from Emory University in 1948 and was a reporter for the Atlanta Journal from 1948-1950. He served in the United States Marine Corps from 1950 to 1952, then became an advertising and promotion manager for television and radio shows in New York for several years. He received an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School in 1956 and worked for Westinghouse

In August 1977 McDonald was appointed Deputy Special Trade Representative and Ambassador in charge of the U.S. delegation to the Tokyo Round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations for the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) in Geneva, Switzerland. In April 1979 he was appointed project manager under Special Trade Representative Robert Strauss for Congressional public liaison on trade negotiations legislation. In August 1979 he was appointed Acting Special Trade Representative after Strauss resigned, and was later appointed Assistant to the President and White House Staff Director, serving immediately under the White House Chief of Staff.

McDonald joined the faculty of the Harvard Business School in 1981, and from 1983 until 1987 he served as a senior counselor to the dean, developing and co-moderating the quarterly Senior Executive Seminar for chief executive officers. He joined the Bendix Corporation in 1981, serving as president and vice chairman until February 1983. He then founded the Avenir Group, a private development bank and investor group.

In 1989 McDonald established the McDonald Agape Foundation, a family-run philanthropy. The foundation supports the Alonzo L. McDonald Family Chair on the Life and Teachings of Jesus and Their Impact on Culture at Emory University’s Candler School of Theology. In 1991 McDonald cofounded, with Os Guinness, the Trinity Forum, a nonprofit evangelical Christian leadership organization. In 1996 he endowed the Alonzo L. McDonald Family Professor of Evangelical Theological Studies at Harvard Divinity School.
