TED TURNER COMING TO CARTER PRESIDENTIAL LIBRARY DISCUSS HIS LIFE & NEW BOOK "CALL ME TED" AT FREE EVENT

Atlanta, GA.- CNN founder Ted Turner comes to the Carter Presidential Library on Wednesday, December 10th to discuss his amazing life and his new book, "Call Me Ted". Because of the anticipated crowd, the event will be held in the Carter Center's Ivan Allen Pavilion. Doors open at 6 pm; the program begins at 7 pm. The event, which is co-sponsored by A Cappella Books, is free and open to the public. No tickets are required; but seating is limited and is first come-first seated. Members of Friends of the Carter Library can obtain up-front, reserved seats by calling 404-865-7109 by noon on December 10th. Information about membership in Friends of the Carter Library is available on line at www.jimmycarterlibrary.gov.

Pre-signed copies of "Call Me Ted" will be available for purchase at the event. Turner will not be signing books or personalizing books following his talk. Don't miss this opportunity to hear one of the visionaries of our times.
