

Jimmy Carter Library & Museum News Release

441 Freedom Parkway, Atlanta, GA 30307-1498

404-865-7100

For Immediate Release

Date: March 21, 2010

Contact: Tony Clark, 404-865-7109

Tony.Clark@NARA.gov

NEWS10-08

BEST-SELLING AUTHOR CHANG-RAE LEE @ CARTER LIBRARY READING & BOOK SIGNING FOR ACCLAIMED NOVEL "THE SURRENDERED"

Atlanta, GA. - What are people saying about bestselling author Chang-Rae Lee's new novel, "The Surrendered" ?

"It's a harrowing tale: bleak, haunting, often heartbreaking—and not to be missed." - Publishers Weekly

"Lee has created a masterpiece of moral and psychological imagination unsparing in its illumination of the consequences of bloodshed and war." - Booklist

"epic in scope, masterful in execution, heart stopping at times, and heartbreaking at others," - Boston Globe

"A landmark novel about love and war. . . Chang-Rae Lee's The Surrendered . . . is impossible to put down."
-O, The Oprah Magazine

Don't miss your opportunity to meet and hear Chang-Rae Lee at the Jimmy Carter Presidential Library on Thursday, March 25th. The 7pm reading and book signing is free and open to the public. Doors to the Carter Presidential Museum theater open at 6pm. Come early to get a good seat. Seating in the theater is limited. Late-comers will watch the presentation on the big screen in the overflow theater. No reservations are needed.

A book signing will follow Chang-Rae Lee's reading. ACappella Books will be selling copies of "The Surrendered" at this special event.

Checkout more on Chang-Rae Lee's Facebook page <http://www.facebook.com/pages/Chang-rae-Lee/242817328550?ref=ts>

For more information, call 404-865-7109 or visit www.jimmycarterlibrary.gov.