Carter Library Author Program

Atlanta, GA. – The Jimmy Carter Presidential Library welcomes author Glennon Doyle Melton on Tuesday, June 25th at 7:00 pm in the Carter Center Day Chapel. Melton is the founder of the popular website Momastery.com, an online community that attracts millions of followers. She provides uplifting and inspiring essays on parenting, marriage, faith and the hardships of daily life.

Her new book, Carry On Warrior: Thoughts on Life Unarmed, has been called "Refreshingly frank. Writing, or as she calls it 'living out loud,' is for Melton a bracing therapy to chase away loneliness, learn humility, and banish the fears of revealing the less than flattering sides of herself." (Publishers Weekly)

Family Circle.com says "Glennon's writing is like a warm embrace. She shines that little light of hers over the whole wide mommy world, reminding us that it is OK – more than OK, our right – to be who we are, no apologies. And we as mothers matter. Because when you spend so much time focusing on everyone else's needs, you often forget that you count too."

The event is free and open to the public. In order to enter the signing line, however, a purchase of the book at the event is required. A Cappella Books will have copies of Carry On, Warrior at the event.
