Money, Climate & the Presidency

Atlanta, GA- Join us as we focus on some of the most important issues facing the country: the economy, the climate and the Presidency. Tomorrow night (April 20th) at 7pm in the museum theater, former Securities and Exchange Commission official Norm Champ will present a rare, insider's look at how the SEC operates and explains exactly how the agency impacts the overall economic health of the country. As Director of the Division of Investment Management, he became a key player in stabilizing trillions of dollars of investor capital while re-energizing the SEC's culture and management. His new book is Going Public: My Adventures Inside the SEC and How to Prevent the Next Devastating Crisis.

On Monday, April 24, at 7pm we'll partner with WABE for a look at Power and the Presidency. WABE's Denis O'Hayer will be joined by NPR national correspondent Debbie Elliott and a distinguished panel for a discussion of the first 100 days of the new administration. Seating is limited in the museum theater. For reservations go to <http://wabenationen-gaged.eventbrite.com>.

Then on Tuesday, April 25th, Paul Hawken returns for a discussion of his new book, Drawdown: The Most Comprehensive Plan Ever Proposed to Reverse Global Warming. Hawken is an environmentalist, entrepreneur, journalist, and author who has dedicated his life to sustainability and changing the relationship between business and the environment. His book presents the 100 most substantive solutions to reverse global warming, based on meticulous research by leading scientists and policymakers around the world. The program will begin at 7pm in the Carter Center's Cecil B. Day Chapel.

ACappella Books will have copies of Going Public and Drawdown available for purchase and signing by the authors.
