Big Things Coming Up At Carter Library Film Screening & Plenty of Authors

Atlanta, Sept. 17--- We have a remarkable line-up of authors and films coming. They are all free and open to the public. The author programs start at 7pm, but the film screenings are earlier, so look for details on the individual listings. You can also get information at www.jimmycarterlibrary.gov

Take a look at what's coming up:

Sept. 19...Film Screening of MERCI CONGO... 6:30 pm in the museum theater

The Carter Library and the Emory Institute for Developing Nations present a free screening of the film "Merci Congo". The ongoing conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo has been called the "deadliest in the world since World War Two". More than five million Congolese have died as the result of two decades of war. Millions more have been displaced. "Merci Congo" is a 90 minute exposé of the minerals trade and East Congo conflict. A discussion will follow the screening. RSVP at

Award-winning constitutional law scholar Justin Driver (who clerked for Judge Merrick B. Sept. 25...Ryan Hampton...American Fix: Inside the American Opioid Crisis

In "AMERICAN FIX", author Ryan Hampton discusses his own struggle with addiction, outlines the challenges that the recovery movement currently faces, and offers a concrete plan of action towards making America's addiction crisis a thing of the past. Co-sponsored by the Davis Direction Foundation.

Sept. 26...Juan Williams....What The Hell Do You Have to Lose: Trump's War on Civil Rights

Bestselling author, political analyst, and civil rights expert Juan Williams delivers a forceful critique of the Trump administration's unprecedented rollback of the civil rights movement. Williams argues the stirring history of hard-fought and heroic battles for voting rights, integrated schools, and more is under direct threat from an administration dedicated to restricting these basic freedoms.

Sept. 27...Clint Harp...Handcrafted: A Woodworker's Story (Carter Center Day Chapel)

Clint Harp, maverick carpenter on HGTV's smash hit Fixer Upper and the star of Wood Work on the DIY Network, presents his inspirational memoir that celebrates meaningful work, turning your craft into a career, and recognizing the importance of the journey itself.
