Dear Jimmy:

I arrived in this office to begin a new job to discover your recent letter to Bertram Davis, my predecessor here, who has returned to teaching in Florida. Bert passed your letter on to me, and we both wish to express our appreciation for your interest in the American Association of University Professors and its members' opinions and views on current social questions.

As a member of the Domestic Advisory Task Force, I hope to provide some input on behalf of my colleagues here at the National Center for Higher Education, as well as this organization. From time to time we do develop policy papers which are of interest to our members, and we do have a number of individuals among the 77,000 members of the American Association of University Professors in many fields who have contributions to make to the formation of public policy. I will take the liberty of sending you from time to time both statements of the organization and suggestions concerning specialists who have worked on some of our committees who may be of help to you in developing policy positions.

With warmest wishes,

Sincerely,

Joseph Duffey
