JAMA Reference Director's

Each of the six JAMA Reference Directories is published at least once a month according to the following schedule: First issue of the month—Meetings in the United States. Second issue—Meetings Outside the United States. Third issue—Organizations of Medical Interest. Fourth issue—AMA Officials, State Medical Associations, and Examinations and Licensure. Listings marked by an asterisk(*) contain information added since the previous scheduled monthly appearance of that directory. Display of exhibits is indicated by [E]. An activity for members only is indicated by [M]. Languages are noted if English is not one of the official languages.

Readers in the United States and abroad are urged to notify JAMA Reference Directories promptly of any omissions or inaccuracies.

ORGANIZATIONS OF MEDICAL INTEREST

Figures in parentheses indicate total voting membership as reported to THE JOURNAL by the respective organizations.

MINOCIN Syrup 50 mg/5 cc 	2 teaspoonfuls (100 mg) initially, 1 teaspoonful (50 mg) q.i.d.	4 mg/kg initially, 2 mg/kg q. 12 h.	2-fluidounce Bottles

Diplococcus pneumoniae.

Staphylococcus aureus, skin and soft tissue infections. Tetracyclines are not the drug of choice in the treatment of any type of staphylococcal infection.

When penicillin is contraindicated, tetracyclines are alternative drugs in the treatment of infections due to:

Neisseria gonorrhoeae, Treponema pallidum and Treponema pertense (syphilis and yaws), Listeria monocytogenes, Clostridium species, Bacillus anthracis, Fusobacterium fusiforme (Vincent's infection), Actinomyces species.

In acute intestinal amebiasis, the tetracyclines may be a useful adjunct to amebicides.

MINOCIN is indicated in the treatment of trachoma, although the infectious agent is not always eliminated, as judged by immunofluorescence. Inclusion conjunctivitis may be treated with oral tetracyclines or with a combination of oral and topical agents.

Oral only: In severe acne, the tetracyclines may be useful adjunctive therapy. Minocycline is indicated in the treatment of asymptomatic carriers of N. meningitidis to eliminate meningococci from the nasopharynx.

In order to preserve the usefulness of MINOCIN minocycline HCl in the treatment of asymptomatic meningococcal carriers, diagnostic laboratory procedures, including serotyping and susceptibility testing, should be performed to establish the carrier state and the correct treatment. It is recommended that the drug be reserved for situations in which the risk of meningococcal meningitis is high.

Minocycline is not indicated for the treatment of meningococcal infection.

CONTRAINDICATIONS. This drug is contraindicated in persons who have shown hypersensitivity to any of the tetracyclines.

WARNINGS. In the presence of renal dysfunction, particularly in pregnancy, intravenous tetracycline therapy in daily doses exceeding 2 grams has been associated with deaths through liver failure.

When the need for intensive treatment outweighs its potential dangers (mostly during pregnancy or in individuals with known or suspected renal or liver impairment), it is advisable to perform renal and liver function tests before and during therapy. Also tetracycline serum concentrations should be followed.

If renal impairment exists, even usual oral or parenteral doses may lead to excessive systemic accumulation of the drug and possible liver toxicity. Under such conditions, lower than usual total doses are indicated, and if therapy is prolonged, serum level determinations of the drug may be advisable. This hazard is of particular importance in the parenteral administration of tetracyclines to pregnant or post-partum patients with pyelonephritis. When used under these circumstances, the blood level should not exceed 15 micrograms/ml, and liver function tests should be made at frequent intervals. Other potentially hepatotoxic drugs should not be prescribed concomitantly.

The use of tetracyclines during tooth development (last half of pregnancy, infancy, and childhood to the age of 8 years) may cause permanent discoloration of the teeth (yellow-gray-brown). This adverse reaction is more common during long-term use of the drugs but has been observed following repeated short-term courses. Enamel hypoplasia has also been reported. Tetracyclines, therefore, should not be used in this age group unless other drugs are not likely to be effective or are contraindicated.

Photosensitivity manifested by an exaggerated sunburn reaction has been observed in some individuals taking tetracyclines. Patients apt to be exposed to direct sunlight or ultraviolet light should be advised that this reaction can occur with tetracycline drugs, and treatment should be discontinued at the first evidence of skin erythema. Studies to date indicate that photosensitivity does not occur with MINOCIN minocycline HCl.

The antianabolic action of the tetracyclines may cause an increase in BUN. While this is not a problem in those with normal renal function, in patients with significantly impaired function, higher serum levels of tetracycline may lead to azotemia, hyperphosphatemia, and acidosis.

CNS side effects including lightheadedness, dizziness or vertigo have been reported. Patients who experience these symptoms should be cautioned about driving vehicles or using hazardous machinery while on minocycline therapy. These symptoms may disappear during therapy and always disappear rapidly when the drug is discontinued.

Usage in Pregnancy. (See above "Warnings" about use during tooth development.)

Results of animal studies indicate that tetracyclines cross the placenta, are found in fetal tissues and can have toxic effects on the developing fetus (often related to retardation of skeletal development). Evidence of embryotoxicity has also been noted in animals treated early in pregnancy.

Usage in newborns, infants, and children. (See above "Warnings" about use during tooth development.)

All tetracyclines form a stable calcium complex in any bone forming tissue. A decrease in the fibula growth rate has been observed in premature infants given oral tetracycline in doses of 25 mg/kg, every 6 hours. This reaction was shown to be reversible when the drug was discontinued.

Tetracyclines are present in the milk of lactating women who are taking a drug in this class.

PRECAUTIONS. As with other antibiotics preparations, use of this drug may result in overgrowth of nonsusceptible organisms, including fungi. If superinfection occurs, the antibiotic should be discontinued and appropriate therapy should be instituted.

In venereal diseases when coexistent syphilis is suspected, darkfield examination should be done before treatment is started and the blood serology repeated monthly for at least 4 months.

Because tetracyclines have been shown to depress plasma prothrombin activity, patients who are on anticoagulant therapy may require downward adjustment of their anticoagulant dosage.

In long-term therapy, periodic laboratory evaluation of organ systems, including hematopoietic, renal and hepatic studies should be performed.

All infections due to Group A beta-hemolytic streptococci should be treated for at least 10 days. Since bacteriostatic drugs may interfere with the bactericidal action of penicillin, it is advisable to avoid giving tetracycline in conjunction with penicillin.

ADVERSE REACTIONS. Gastrointestinal: Anorexia, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, glossitis, dysphagia, enterocolitis, and inflammatory lesions (with monilial overgrowth) in the orogenital region.

These reactions have been caused by both the oral and parenteral administration of tetracyclines. Skin: Maculopapular and erythematous rashes. Exfoliative dermatitis has been reported but is uncommon. Photosensitivity is discussed above. (See "Warnings.")

Renal toxicity: Rise in BUN has been reported and is apparently dose related. (See "Warnings.") Hypersensitivity reactions: Urticaria, angioneurotic edema, anaphylaxis, anaphylactoid purpura, pericarditis and exacerbation of systemic lupus erythematosus. Bulging fontanel has been reported in young infants following full therapeutic dosage. This sign disappeared rapidly when the drug was discontinued. Blood: Hemolytic anemia, thrombocytopenia, neutropenia and eosinophilia have been reported. CNS: (See "Warnings.") When given over prolonged periods, tetracyclines have been reported to produce brown-black microscopic discoloration of thyroid glands. No abnormalities of thyroid function studies are known to occur.

DOSAGE AND ADMINISTRATION: ORAL. Therapy should be continued for at least 24-48 hours after symptoms and fever have subsided.

Concomitant therapy: Antacids containing aluminum, calcium, or magnesium impair absorption and should not be given to patients taking oral tetracycline.

Studies to date have indicated that the absorption of MINOCIN is not notably influenced by foods and dairy products.

In patients with renal impairment: (See "Warnings.") Total dosage should be decreased by reduction of recommended individual doses and/or by extending time intervals between doses.

In the treatment of streptococcal infections, a therapeutic dose of tetracycline should be administered for at least 10 days.

ADULTS: The usual dosage of MINOCIN minocycline HCl is 200 mg, initially followed by 100 mg, every 12 hours. Alternatively, if more frequent doses are preferred, two or four 50 mg, capsules may be given initially followed by one 50 mg, capsule four times daily.

CHILDREN: The usual dosage of MINOCIN minocycline HCl is 4 mg./Kg, initially followed by 2 mg./Kg, every 12 hours.

For treatment of syphilis, the usual dosage of MINOCIN should be administered over a period of 10-15 days. Close followup, including laboratory tests, is recommended.

Gonorrhea patients sensitive to penicillin may be treated with MINOCIN, administered as 200 mg, initially followed by 100 mg, every twelve hours for a minimum of 4 days, with post-therapy cultures within 2-3 days.

In the treatment of meningococcal carrier state recommended dose is 100 mg, every 12 hours for five days.

DOSAGE AND ADMINISTRATION: INTRAVENOUS. Note: Rapid administration is to be avoided. Parenteral therapy is indicated only when oral therapy is not adequate or tolerated. Oral therapy should be instituted as soon as possible. If intravenous therapy is given over prolonged periods of time, thrombophlebitis may result.

ADULTS: Usual adult dose, 200 mg, followed by 100 mg, every 12 hours and should not exceed 400 mg, in 24 hours. The drug should be initially dissolved and then further diluted to 500-1,000 cc, with either Sodium Chloride Injection USP, Dextrose Injection USP, Dextrose and Sodium Chloride Injection USP, Ringer's Injection USP, or Lactated Ringer's Injection USP but not in other solution containing calcium (a precipitate may form).

The reconstituted solutions are stable at room temperature for 24 hours without significant loss of potency. Any unused portions must be discarded after that period. The final dilution for administration should be administered immediately.

CHILDREN: Usual pediatric dose: 4 mg./kg, followed by 2 mg./kg, every 12 hours.

In patients with renal impairment: (See "Warnings.")

Total dosage should be decreased by reduction of recommended individual doses and/or by extending time intervals between doses.

HOW SUPPLIED. Capsules—Minocycline Hydrochloride equivalent to 100 mg, Minocycline Hardshell purple and orange. Bottles of 50 and 100; Unit Dose 10 x 10's, Product No. 5301.

Confidentiality: A hindrance or a necessity?

Would patient care be improved if confidentiality was not absolutely inviolate? Yes, contends Lawrence L. Weed, M.D. in his article, "THE PUBLIC'S NEEDS MUST BE MET," in the June issue of PRISM. But in "THE PATIENT'S TRUST MUST BE PROTECTED," John M. Rumsey warns what will happen if that trust is violated and suggests what the profession can do to prevent violations of privacy.

Don't miss the June issue

Before prescribing, please consult complete product information, a summary of which follows:

Indications: Relief of anxiety and tension occurring alone or accompanying various disease states.

Contraindications: Patients with known hypersensitivity to the drug.

Warnings: Caution patients about possible combined effects with alcohol and other CNS depressants. As with all CNS-acting drugs, caution patients against hazardous occupations requiring complete mental alertness (e.g., operating machinery, driving). Though physical and psychological dependence have rarely been reported on recommended doses, use caution in administering to addiction-prone individuals or those who might increase dosage; withdrawal symptoms (including convulsions), following discontinuation of the drug and similar to those seen with barbiturates, have been reported. Use of any drug in pregnancy, lactation or in women of childbearing age requires that its potential benefits be weighed against its possible hazards.

Precautions: In the elderly and debilitated, and in children over six, limit to smallest effective dosage (initially 10 mg or less per day) to preclude ataxia or oversedation, increasing gradually as needed and tolerated. Not recommended in children under six. Though generally not recommended, if combination therapy with other psychotropics seems indicated, carefully consider individual pharmacologic effects, particularly in use of potentiating drugs such as MAO inhibitors and phenothiazines. Observe usual precautions in presence of impaired renal or hepatic function. Paradoxical reactions (e.g., excitement, stimulation and acute rage) have been reported in psychiatric patients and hyperactive aggressive children. Employ usual precautions in treatment of anxiety states with evidence of impending depression; suicidal tendencies may be present and protective measures necessary. Variable effects on blood coagulation have been reported very rarely in patients receiving the drug and oral anticoagulants; causal relationship has not been established clinically.

Adverse Reactions: Drowsiness, ataxia and confusion may occur, especially in the elderly and debilitated. These are reversible in most instances by proper dosage adjustment, but are also occasionally observed at the lower dosage ranges. In a few instances syncope has been reported. Also encountered are isolated instances of skin eruptions, edema, minor menstrual irregularities, nausea and constipation, extrapyramidal symptoms, increased and decreased libido—all infrequent and generally controlled with dosage reduction; changes in EEG patterns (low-voltage fast activity) may appear during and after treatment; blood dyscrasias (including agranulocytosis), jaundice and hepatic dysfunction have been reported occasionally, making periodic blood counts and liver function tests advisable during protracted therapy.

Supplied: Librium® Capsules containing 5 mg, 10 mg or 25 mg chlordiazepoxide HCl. Libribabs® Tablets containing 5 mg, 10 mg or 25 mg chlordiazepoxide.

The Somatic Protest in the Postcoronary Patient...

Physiologic reaction to excessive anxiety

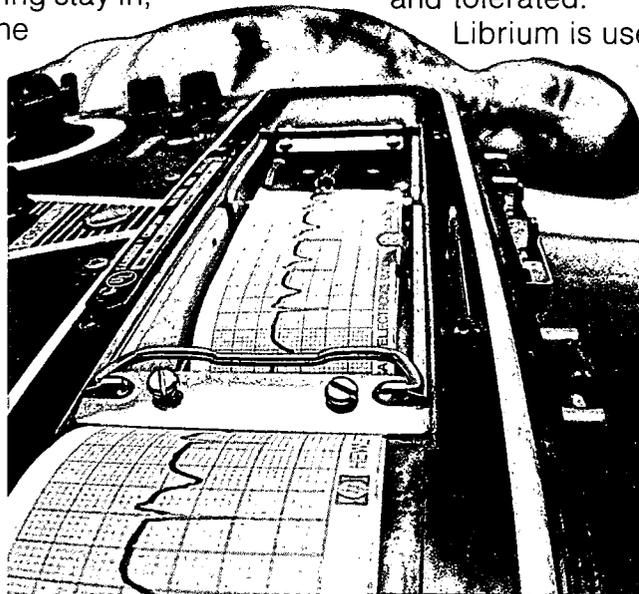

Although he has valid reason for concern, the person convalescing from myocardial infarction may react to his illness with disproportionate anxiety, which can hinder smooth recovery and rehabilitation. Undue anxiety and emotional tension may, in some patients—because of marked increase in catecholamine excretion during stay in, and on day of transfer from, the CCU—cause increased heart rate, increased cardiac output and intensified oxygen consumption by heart muscle. In addition, excessive anxiety can (1) increase feelings of frustration at forced inactivity, (2) foster undue preoccupation with heart function, (3) diminish capacity to tolerate prospect of work stress and (4) retard rehabilitation. A calm outlook and reduction of excessive emotional stress are thus desirable.

Antianxiety action with wide margin of safety

Adjunctive antianxiety medication, when needed to complement counseling and reassurance, should be both effective and comparatively free from undesirable side effects. Extensive clinical experience has demonstrated that Librium (chlordiazepoxide HCl) fulfills these requirements with a high degree of consistency. In the elderly and debilitated, the initial dose is 5 mg b.i.d. or less to preclude ataxia or over-sedation, increasing gradually as needed and tolerated.

Librium is used concomitantly with certain specific medications of other classes of drugs, e.g., cardiac glycosides, diuretics and antihypertensive agents, whenever anxiety is a clinically significant factor. When anxiety has been reduced to tolerable levels, Librium therapy should be discontinued.

To teach the fundamentals of athletic health and training, thousands of coaches turn to the AMA for coaching.

Of the 14,000-plus high schools in this country, few can afford the luxury of a professional athletic trainer. So a coach or student tries to fill the gap. Problem is, few of them have any training in the field.

Where do they turn to get it? They turn to The Fundamentals of Athletic Training, a book published by the AMA. A joint project of the AMA, the National Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletic Institute, it's the only book especially prepared to train coaches and student trainers in the basic principles of physical fitness, nutrition, first aid, physical therapy and the other vital aspects of a sound athletic training program.

Some 10,000 coaches and students in high schools across the country depend on this book to help them take better care of their athletes.

Physicians often ask what the AMA does. This is just one of many things—and made possible by the physicians who support the AMA through their membership. Find out more about the AMA, how it serves the public, how it serves the profession. Just send in the completed coupon.

Peter Bourne has identified over 200 national organizations with over 10,000 members which include trade, business, agricultural, educational, and fraternal groups (religious organizations are not included). He would like for you to write the executive officer of each of these groups both to ask for issue information and to make a personal contact with them. The executive directors will be more likely to remain in office over the next two years than would an elected officer. We could then follow up with those groups who respond favorably to inform them of your position on issues of interest to them.

I am enclosing a draft letter for your consideration and the list of organizations. I have circled several of the listings for whom this letter might not apply.

Subject: Organization Letter

Here are the remainder of the summaries from the replies to the letter to organizations. Although some of the replies are excellent and we have been able to establish some excellent contacts, I am somewhat disappointed at the overall response in terms of the percentage who replied.

Apart from the follow up suggestions I have made I believe it would be useful after the announcement for the Governor to send a letter to each of these people who did reply, thanking them for this response again and soliciting their continuing input and support now that he is an announced candidate. Also for those who did not respond this time I believe it would be worthwhile to send another letter to a refined list (post announcement) asking for the organization to support the Governor and provide him input on their issues of concern. I think many of these people will be more responsive to an individual candidate than they were to what they may have seen as a rather amorphous request from the Party. Also this time it would be possible to tailor the letters much more specifically to what we know are their individual concerns with the opportunity to stress the Governor's position when we know they coincide.

Comment: Ms Randall was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination in California's 37th Congressional District, and most of her letter deals with this, her future political plans, and her organization in her district. She does not address any specific issues on behalf of her organization. However I believe she will be helpful to us in organizing in her own district.

Follow-up: We should maintain contact with her, possibly with the Governor seeing on a future trip to California.

Issues: Traditional conservative issues- anti-labor. oppose Federal housing program and National Health Insurance.

Comment: Letter is brief, but quantity of material outlining their position on the above issues is enclosed and is on file. Particularly in the human services area it is going to be difficult for us to support their positions. However in the area of defense there may be some common ground, particularly relating to their support of the Trident program.

Follow-up: It would probably be usefull for the Governor to meet with Mr Dear or another representative of their organization on a future trip to Washington.

Issues: No issues in this letter, but promises follow-up with several position papers detailing various issues of concern to industry.

Comment: This is a large and influential organization, and while we may have problems with some of their positions it would be worth while to establish an ongoing relationship with them.

Follow-up: If they do not send us their position papers we should contact them again shortly after the announcement. Also it would be useful for the Governor to meet with Mr Kenna if he has not already done so. Possibly an address to their next annual meeting would be appropriate.

Also 'We've gotten off the track and need to restructure our thinking in a more positive vein rather than citing all of the negative wrongs.'

Comment: In expressing appreciation for the letter soliciting input from his organization Mr Blake states: 'our publications reach more than 100,000 opinion forming people monthly.' We should definitely try to get something into their publications just for the exposure.

Follow-up: We should contact Mr Blake after the announcement about getting a statement to them that they could use.

Issues: They feel politicians and government constantly expresses concern for small business but rarely does anything concrete for them. Their main concern is that large corporations grow at the expense of small business, and government actions tend to favor large not small business. In particular they are concerned about the tight credit situation caused by the present economic situation.

Comment: They enclosed a copy of their pamphlet describing their "Catch Up" program for small business. This is a group that is large but not terribly well organized. They are however a group from whom we should be able to get a good deal of natural support.

Follow-Up: The Governor should meet with Mr Lewis on a later trip to Washington. perhaps also we could prepare something for their publication.

Issues: Run away inflation, plight of their older members, and the general economic condition of the country.

Comment: A group whose interests are limited to certain areas of the country, but a group that it will be good to have some pre-existing contact with in places like Milwaukee, New Jersey, and other parts of the country where middle European ethnic groups live in large numbers.

Follow-Up: Mr Badovinac offered to meet with the Governor while passing through Atlanta in August. If this meeting did not occur we should try to arrange a meeting some time when the Governor will be in Pennsylvania. After the announcement we should contact him again and see if we can get some help with local organizing efforts in those States where they have a significant membership.

Contact: Bert H. Early

Tel: 312-493-0533

Issues: Offered to provide some specific input on issues some time in September after their House of Delegates has met in August. I do not know if they have done this. No issues mentioned in the letter.

Comment: Although they are a big and influential organization and their suggestions are likely to be helpful it is unlikely that we will get any great mileage from them as they are bound to be sought out by all candidates.

Follow-Up: If they have not sent something yet we should followup with a request for the promised position statements. After the first of the year we should see about getting material into their newsletter and other publications. Also perhaps we could arrange for the Governor to speak at their annual meeting next year.

Tel: 212-581-8440

Issues: "the devastating effect of inflation, the integrity of the political process, and achievement of full participation by minorities in our economic life, and the equitable distribution of the burden of taxation."

Comment: He states that they have refrained from taking partisan positions in the past and therefore this limits what they feel they can say or how much they can support any particular candidate or party. This is a large organization, and we should at least try to get attention through their publications even if we can not get much overt support.

Follow-up: Possibly prepare a statement for their publication. None other at present.

Issues: Canvassing affiliates for their views-will get back to us on what their key issues of concern are. Nothing specific in this letter.

Comment: "I believe your query is a terrific idea. The mere fact of our communicating it to our groups will make you many friends among our groups". This letter is filled with such positive statements. However Hamilton has suggested that the group may not be legitimate and should be further checked out before any further follow up.

Follow-Up: None at present.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

345 EAST 47th STREET • NEW YORK, N. Y. 10017 • (212) PL 2-6800

November 6, 1974

The Honorable Jimmy Carter
1974 Campaign Chairman
Democratic National Committee
P. O. Box 1524
Atlanta, Georgia 30301

Dear Governor:

This is further response to your letter of July 22, 1974, with respect to identification of issues which we feel need to be addressed "in a serious and effective way by political candidates...". We certainly welcome this opportunity to be of service in the political process, and intend to supplement these initial comments by further information, as you suggest.

While there are many issues of concern to the American Society of Civil Engineers, this letter is limited to those of paramount importance in the transportation field. Our National Transportation Policy Committee is in the process of reviewing and revising the ASCE statement "Principles of a Sound National Transportation Policy," last amended by our Board of Direction in May 1967. When the current revision is completed and adopted, we shall be delighted to furnish it to you and, from time to time, to provide additional policy statements which we believe to be in the public interest.

In general, the Committee points out that transportation is a service vital to the welfare of all people, and that speed, safety, convenience, and economy of transport, contributing to a good environment, are hallmarks of a good transportation system which is composed of many types of facilities and equipment, coordinated to meet the people's needs as reflected in lifestyles, market choices, and national security requirements, based on best available technology. It is believed that transportation policy should serve national goals, as they are established, but should not necessarily be the chief means of attaining them.

The Committee believes that adequate transportation is essential, achieved through cooperative Federal, state, local, and especially private enterprise efforts. It is believed that the private sector in transportation should be given the greatest reasonable incentives through equitable regulatory policies, adequate rates of return on investment, and the greatest possible reductions in restrictions on efficient manpower utilization. However, Government has a responsibility to assure essential, safe, and efficient transport of people and goods.

Transportation planning should be integral with comprehensive planning, recognizing that transportation is both a land use and a support service. Transportation facilities should be planned, constructed, and managed so as to enhance community values and, on balance, to improve the quality of life. Realizing that the development of transportation systems can have major impacts on the human, physical, and natural environment, the Committee believes that planning for transportation must be carried out with involvement and advice of the citizens in the areas affected, but at the same time the responsible agencies and professionals bear a duty to develop alternatives and recommend solutions which will result in prompt decisions necessary to meet current and future needs without undue delay.

The Committee is convinced that all modes of transportation should be considered in the planning process and that each should be utilized in an appropriate manner to form a unified transportation system. No one mode of transportation, by itself, can meet the pressing needs. Moreover, no transportation facility should be constructed unless the total costs of it can be justified by the total benefits which will accrue from it. In this respect, segments of facilities should not be viewed in isolation, but as part of a larger system, the total benefits of which will exceed the costs.

The Committee believes that users of transportation service are generally the primary beneficiaries and should bear the primary costs, with other beneficiaries sharing remaining costs to the extent they are benefited. Where public assistance may be needed to insure essential services, the amount should be determined analytically and provided from appropriately related sources at the lowest possible level of jurisdiction, where most decisions about the transportation facilities and their funding should be made. State and Federal aids may also be justified to the extent that statewide or nationwide public benefits may be identified.

The Committee believes that considerable increases in transportation research and development are warranted and necessary -- providing substantial benefits beyond the costs of R&D, in the long run. Full consideration of a wide range of transportation alternatives is necessary, including ways to reduce travel demands, secure more efficient vehicle utilization, and operate facilities more efficiently. However, it believes that any individual should have the inherent right to choose the transportation vehicle, or system,

Subject: Organizations

Here is the first batch of summaries on the national organizations. If you want they can be filed on 5x8 cards. Some require follow up particularly where an individual has expressed an interest in coming to Atlanta to see the Governor. Also if there is anyone who could pursue the idea of preparing material for the newsletters most of these organizations put out it is a way of getting substantial free publicity and attention. After December we could arrange for the Governor make some statements specifically addressing the concerns of certain of these organizations, and then make the statements available to them to distribute to the membership. Also after the first of the year we need to try to get the mailing lists or membership directories from some of these organizations.

Steve -
These came to me -
I don't know if this is a copy or the original.
JEB

Contact: Rudolph R. Fichtel
Director, American Institute of Banking
1120 Connecticut Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20036

Tel: 202

Issues: Inflation, high taxes and crime. These are very standard issues and they offered nothing else. However these are the key issues concerning not only the banking and business community, but the entire country.

Comment: The letter is short and not thoughtful. However Mr Fichtel expressed considerable and probably sincere appreciation for being asked to have input.

Follow-up: None at present

Contact: William J. Kuhfuss
President
225 Touhy Avenue
Park Ridge
Illinois, 60068

Issues: Primary concerns are, inflation, food aid, government reserve of farm products, trade reform, farm labor, Occupational Safety and Health Act, National Health Insurance, and Consumer Protection. They have provided a series of position papers and copies of Congressional testimony.

Comment: The politics of the National farm organizations are complex, and this group tends to be rather conservative. This is an area where more research needs to be done, however it is of considerable importance to us and this particular organization is large and influential.

Follow-up: Mr Kuhfuss does not offer future help and the letter was short and uninspiring. However in view of the significance of the group we should probably invite him to Atlanta, or the Governor should try to see him while in Illinois. Peter Bourne will pursue a more detailed analysis of the overall farm organization situation.

Contact: Joseph R. Williams
President
Suite 912
1101 Seventeenth Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20036

Tel: 202-659-1160

Issues: This letter provides extensive documentation of the magnitude and economic significance of the tobacco industry. 400,000 farms in 25 states are involved in its cultivation; 20% of the Nation's farmers are involved with this crop. It is a major source of tax dollars and exports provide a major contribution to our overseas balance of trade. Their primary concerns are that health advocates will successfully interfere with the cigarette market and that agricultural economists who believe in a free economy will seek to eliminate production control and price supports.

Comment: From a health standpoint it is hard to support their position. From an economic view they are extremely consequential. In addition they represent a very large constituency. The letter is also long and carefully written. We should make an effort to privately seek their support although it may be hard to take a public position that would align us too closely with them.

Follow-up: None immediately

AIRCRAFT OWNERS AND PILOTS ASSOCIATION

AIR/TRANSPORTATION

Contact: J.B.HARTRANFT, Jr.
President
Box 5800
Washington, D.C.20014

Tel: 301-654-0500

Issues: Concerned about protecting general aviation and particularly what they see as the potential of consistent interference by the Federal Aviation Administration. They emphasize that any national transportation policy should take into account different individual needs in different communities. They enclosed a number of publications detailing their positions.

Comment: This organization has an elaborate newsletter and magazine service. It might be worthwhile to put together a statement for them to send to their membership.

Follow-up: No other follow up at this time.

CANCER CARE INC.

HEALTH

Contact: Mary Overton
Assistant Executive Director
(acting in the absence of Irene G. Buckley, Executive Director)
One Park Avenue
New York, N.Y. 10016

Tel: 212-679-5700

Issues: Caring about the human impact of cancer rather than the treatment or cure.
Their main concern is any change in the tax structure that would result in discouraging voluntary giving to organizations like theirs.

Comment: Cancer is a issue of concern for many Americans. This concern will be intensified because of Mrs Ford's problems and the openness of Marvella Bayh, particularly if her husband is a candidate. There is not much mileage for us in this issue but by maintaining contact with this group we can reduce any adverse effect and diminish what other candidates can get out of it.

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

Civic

Contact: Philip H. Lindsey
Head, Executive Services Division
1600 Ridge Avenue
Evanston, Illinois. 60201

Tel:

Issues: Rotary International is the association of Rotary Clubs in 151 countries around the world. They do not take any policy or political positions and therefore feel they can not offer any specific comments.

Comment: Although they take no partisan position this is a large and influential organization that might be worth spending some time on. In particular it might be worth getting an invitation for the Governor to address their annual meeting.

Contact: Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
1515 East Eleyen Mile Road
Royal Oak, Michigan, 48067

Tel:

Issues: There are 30 million small investors in the country represented directly or indirectly by this organization. Their greatest concern is that capital gains taxes aimed ostensibly at the large institutional investor often have greatest impact on the little investor. Inflation produces apparent gains that are taxable but not real. They feel there should be some provision to allow for the effect of inflation in capital gains taxation. Particularly the issue of rising commission costs in securities investing is of concern to them.

Comment: This organization represents a sizable number of people. Also with the stock market continuing to stay down anyone taking interest in their plight is going to be greatly appreciated. The letter is long and thoughtful.

Follow-up: The Governor should after he announces provide them a statement or article on the plight of the small investor that they could use in their magazine. As an alternative, but of lower priority he might if in Michigan meet with Mr O'Hara, or address their annual meeting.

Contact: Ms Johnnie L. Tillmon
Executive Director
1420 N Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20005

Tel: 202-483-1531

Issues: Primary concerns of NWRO are in four areas:

- (1) Guaranteed adequate income (i.e. $7,500 for a family of four)
- (2) Comprehensive National Health Care Package.
- (3) Adequate wages and guaranteed work
- (4) Adequate housing

Comment: Although this is generally considered a radical group, they are vocal and will certainly be in a visible role in 1976. While it is unlikely that we could endorse their entire proposal particularly the guaranteed income, we can probably see that they would not be in opposition to us. A little effort at an early stage to try to get input and convey our concern would pay off.

Follow-up: If Ms Tillmon has not already contacted the Governor as she proposed in her letter for a meeting while she was in Atlanta during mid-September we should contact her and arrange a meeting perhaps in Washington.

Contact: Dr Philip H. Abelson
Acting Executive Officer
1515 Massachusetts Avenue N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20005

Issues: Inflation, energy, environment. No other issues which might be specific to the interests of scientists are mentioned.

Comments: This is a very disappointing response. It is short and lists only those general issues that the population as a whole is worried about. Perhaps part of the problem is that Dr Abelson is in only an acting role.

Follow-up: None at present. This is an important organization and perhaps we should contact them again once they have a replacement for Dr Abelson.

AMERICAN SOYBEAN ASSOCIATION

Farm

Contact: Ralph T. Jackson
Executive Vice President
P.O. Box 158
Hudson, Iowa. 50643

Tel: 319-825-3296

Issues: Emphasis on self help to expand markets for soybeans and soybean products. No Government controls and currently there is no Federal acreage limit. They oppose Government held strategic grain reserves or reserves for other commodities. Strongly opposed last years soybean export embargo. They want stronger legislation to prevent crippling dock and transportation strikes. Government should provide more funds for soybean research. They support the 1973 Trade Reform Act.

Comment: This is a long and thoughtful letter and the organization is one to which we should have some unique appeal.

Follow-up: Bill Prichard of Louisville is the Ga. State Association President, and Mr Jackson suggested that they contact the Governor for an appointment. If we have not yet heard from them it would be a good idea for us to initiate the contact and arrange some mutually convenient time. Probably it should be after the announcement.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CITIZENS

RETARDED

Contact: Philip Roos, Phd.
Executive Director
2709 Avenue E East
P.O. Box 6109
Arlington, Texas 76011

Tel: 817-261-4961

Issues: They provided us with their "Five Year Plan" which is on file. The primary thrust is on Community based programs as opposed to institutional care. They want to see increased Federal support for the retarded, especially in the area of providing housing and foster homes. They are also emphasizing legal rights, more Government support for research, and better education of the general public, as far as the ability of the retarded citizen to lead a relatively normal life.

Comment: This organization has achieved prominence largely through skillful political endeavor. They are very approachable and Dr Roos offered to make a special trip to Atlanta to meet with the Governor. They also recommend that we contact Dr Jack Blackstone of their Georgia Affiliate and Kermit Harrington their regional representative who is also in Atlanta. They will certainly be pursuing every major candidate, so it is unlikely we will get anything unique from them.

KIWANIS INTERNATIONAL

PUBLIC SERVICE/CIVIC

Contact: R.P.Merridew
International Secretary
Kiwanis International Building
101 East Erie Street
Chicago, Illinois, 60611

Tel: 312-wh3-2300

Issues: Clear statement of their concerns that probably reflect the views of a large percentage of the country at this time; inflation, increasing taxes, constantly growing bureacracy, lack of pride in workmanship, lack of pride in the nation, increasing centralization of government, worry over energy and the need for reconciliation between environmentalists and industrial realities, lawlessness, and concern that so-called tax reform is an attack on profits,dividendsand capital gains, "the American business system itself"

Comments: Routine input without any particular offers for the future, but a group worth investing some time and effort courting because of their size and influence.

Follow-up: An effort should be made to get the Governor invited to speak at their annual convention.

Contact: Peter M. Blau
President
Dept. of Sociology
Columbia University
New York, N.Y. 10027

Tel: 212-

Issues: Responded with his personal views rather than any organizational position. He feels that the enormous size of so many of our institutions whether private or Governmental have caused not only the great alienation that has occurred in modern society, but also has contributed significantly to the abuse of power and as such represent a major threat to American society merely by virtue of their bigness.

Comment: He is putting our request on the agenda for the August Council meeting of the organization and asking the individual members to respond to us directly. His response is a little academic, but corroborates what several other respondents have written us.

Follow-up: None immediately.

NATIONAL ORGANIZATION OF WOMEN

Feminist issues

Contact: Karen DeCrow
President
116 Benedict Ave.
Syracuse, N.Y. 13210
(Home)

Tel: 212-922-4536(Office)

Issues: No specific issues discussed other than her desire to meet with the Governor to discuss ways in which the Democratic party can become more feminist in its orientation.

Comment: It is disappointing that she provided no specific concrete suggestions. This appears a slapdash response.

Follow-up: Because of the importance of this constituency an effort should probably be made to meet with this woman, but if her letter is any indication it will not be very productive, and we would probably do best to get our primary input on this topic from other sources.

AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION

CIVIL LIBERTIES

Contact: Aryeh Neier
22 East 40th Street
New York, N.Y., 10016

Tel: 212-725-1222

Issues: The right to privacy and Government secrecy were given as the primary issues of concern. This emphasis may have been colored by the impeachment process which was at its height at the time this letter was written.

Comment: This organization wields immense influence over the intellectual/liberal community, and although ostensibly non-partisan the support of their key officers would help us enormously.

Follow-up: Mr Neier offered to meet with the Governor when in Atlanta Sept.12-13th. The Governor scheduled to meet with Mr Charles Morgan, National Political Director in Washington September 24th 1974.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

Health Care

Contact: John Alexander Mc Mahon
President
840 Lake Shore Drive
Chicago, Illinois, 60611

Tel: 312-⁶⁴⁵~~05~~ - 9400

Issues: Recognizes the need for enhanced access to health care for the "unserved and underserved of our society" but stresses his organization's desire to maintain the separation of the Government and the private sector in health care. Position basically parallels that of the AMA.

Comments: They are sponsoring the Ameriplan for Nat. Health Insurance, its only provision is that it calls specified minimum benefits in private health insurance policies.

Follow-up: Mr McMahon will be in Atlanta on October 31st 1974, we should invite him to stop by to see the Governor if he will be in town

AMERICAN DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Dental/Health Affairs

Contact: Bernard J. Conway
Assistant Executive Director
Legislation and Legal Affairs
211 East Chicago Avenue
Chicago, Illinois. 60611

Tel: 312- WH-4-6730

Issues: Health Insurance Bills and health manpower proposals. They support the original Childrens Dental Health Act (S.429). They believe comprehensive dental services for children should have the highest priority in any national health program, and that any national health insurance plan should include provision for the coverage of health care. We have on file a complete statement of their position on N.H.I.

Comments: Rep. Melvin Price (D.Ill.) introduced legislation to reorganize the Dental Corps of the Armed Services. He appears to be the key person on the Hill promoting their interests.

Follow-Up: None immediately, but we should invite them to any health meeting we have and also offer them input when we put together our final health policy position.

AMERICAN CHIROPRACTIC ASSOCIATION

Chiropractic/Health

* 21

Contact: Louis O. Gearhart, D.C.
Executive Director
2200 Grand Avenue
Des Moines, Iowa. 50312

Tel:

Issues: Health care and National Health Insurance. They ask that 'health care' and not 'medical care' be stressed. They want all Federal support for service delivery, research, and training to provide equal provision for chiropractic as other health professions.

Follow-Up: None at present. Use of the term 'medical care' should be avoided in any public statements if possible.

ASSOCIATION FOR COMPUTING MACHINERY

Computer Industry

Contact: Jean E. Sammet (Miss)
President
IBM Corporation
545 Technology Square
Cambridge, Mass 02139

Tel:

Issues: They are presently preparing a paper listing issues of concern to their membership that they will send us. They do not at present have any definable concerns although they responded very positively to the inquiry.

Comment: The Governor spoke to them at their last annual meeting which was in Atlanta, they recalled this very positively.

Follow-up: None at present.

AMERICAN PERSONNEL AND GUIDANCE ASSOCIATION

Guidance/Education

Contact: Patrick J. McDonough, Ed.D.
Assistant Executive Director for Professional Affairs
1607 New Hampshire Ave. N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20009

Tel: 202-483-4633

Issues: Dr McDonough conducted a special poll of their members to get an adequate answer to our letter. The priority issues were: 1) Politicians fail to use adequately professional groups such as this one to get input on key issues, -they should do it much more., 2) Candidates should be aware of their obligation to all constituents-"open door" and "open ears". 3) Reduce duplication in education functions in the Federal Government. 4) Encourage support for industry-labor-education cooperation. Also included in the letter are seven specific issues along the same line, that should be referred to if any statement is to be made touching on this area.

Comment: A considerable amount of effort obviously went into answering our letter, and they clearly would like to have continuing input.

Follow-up: As we develop our policy position on education they should be kept involved. Also if possible it might be useful for the Governor to meet this man on one of his trips to Washington.

NATIONAL FEDERATION OF INDEPENDENT BUSINESS

Small Business

Contact: Bill Burson
Area Director, State and Local Affairs
3004-1 Buford Highway N.E.
Atlanta, Ga. 30329

Tel: 404-634-1446

Issues: Bill Burson forwarded to us a list of policy issues prepared by the National Office in San Mateo, California. These are on file with his letter. The major points in the paper are, opposition to anti-trust laws, oppose economic controls, seek liberalization of first year depreciation allowance, oppose further increase in the minimum wage, and favor legislation to prevent crippling strikes.

Comment: This paper is as clear as any in concisely laying out the issues that concern this group. Many of their concerns are things we can easily support and would bring us some attention from this group which is large and influential.

Follow-up: None immediately

NATIONAL COUNCIL ON CRIME AND DELINQUENCY

Crime

Contact: Milton G. Rector
President
Continental Plaza
411 Hackensack Avenue
Hackensack, New Jersey 07601

Tel: 201-488-0400

Issues: They provided us with pamphlets summarizing their position on, Nondangerous Offenders, Sentencing of Narcotic Offenders, and Victimless crimes. Main complaint about the administration's policy is its failure to apply or even respond to the recommendations of the National Advisory Commissions recommendations. In particular they favor a phasing out of the present U.S. Bureau of Prisons and the development of a new Federal structure to provide leadership in this area.

Comment: They provided some very good material with some very viable positions that we might want to consider. This is a good source for speech material or for developing our criminal justice policy position.

Follow-up: None immediately, but we might want to get their reaction to anything we develop in this area. He did make an offer to come to Georgia Specially to meet with the Governor. Maybe we could have him do this.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

ACADEMIC INTERESTS

Contact: Joseph Duffey
General Secretary
One DuPont Circle-Suite 500
Washington D.C. 20036

Tel: 202-466-8050

Issues: No specific issues mentioned. They will send us from time to time organizational statements, and policy documents. They will also send us suggestions of specialists from among their membership who have worked on their various committees.

Comment: We could benefit from providing us the assistance of various experts. Also it would help us to get strong supporters and spokesmen in the academic community. Duffey ran for the Senate in Connecticut-lost to Weicker

Follow-Up: We should probably establish a more direct personal contact with Mr Duffey. Peter Bourne might get together with him, and perhaps the Governor could see him at some point while in Washington.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS

ALCOHOLISM

Contact: Mary Ellen Uribe
468 Park Avenue South
New York, N.Y. 10016

Tel: 212-686-1100

Issues: Concerned about alcoholism, but a fellowship of individuals that does not involve itself as an organization in any policy issues.

Follow-up: In light of their policy of non-involvement no follow up is indicated.

Executive Vice President
1319 Eighteenth Street N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20036

Tel: 202-467-5810

Issues: Balanced use of all natural resources is the major objective of the organization. They are concerned about the lack of management and professional direction in the use of the nations forests. They include a list of 14 specific steps they would like to see taken by government officials. These include an Eastern Wilderness System, placing all public lands and minerals under a leasing system, a comprehensive nationwide land use planning law.

Comment: This is a time consuming response and their position is one we could easily support.

Follow-up: We should try to arrange for the Governor to speak at their next annual meeting.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF FARMER COOPERATIVES

Contact: Kenneth D. Naden
President
1129 Twentieth Street, N.W.
Washington D.C. 20036

Tel: 202-659-1525

Issues: Main protection of the Cooperatives is IRS Section 521 and Subchapter T. They oppose any attempt to repeal these sections. They are concerned about the transportation of produce, particularly the need for more rail cars and the decline in rail line serving rural communities and storage facilities. They are concerned about maintaining their partial immunity from anti-trust legislation. They are also concerned that the Government take steps to maintain the supplies of fuel and fertilizer, minimize barriers to world trade, and stabilize the agricultural labor situation.

Comment: A lengthy letter to which considerable thought seems to have been given.

Follow-up: He recommends that we contact Mr D. W. Brooks, Chairman of the Board, Goldkist, Inc. in Atlanta. It might be a good idea for the Governor to meet him. Also we could follow up with someone meeting with Mr Naden in Washington.

Contact: Anthony Wayne Smith
1701 E. Eighteenth Street
Washington, D.C. 20009

Tel: 202-667-3352

Issues: No specific issues, but he is also Chairman Environmental Coalition for North America, and of the Executive Committee, Citizens Committee on Natural Resources.

Comments: Lifelong Democrat, Franklin County, Pennsylvania (see individual mailing ca card)

Follow-up: He expresses desire for meeting with the Governor or his representative.
This should be done as soon as possible.

Also prepare an article for their publication

Contact: Paul H Robbins
Executive Director
2029 K Street N. W.
Washington, D.C. 20006

Tel: 202-331-7020

Issues: Failure of recent administrations to adequately use the technological expertise and resources in the country. Feast and famine for scientific research. High level organization needed in future administrations to insure full use of the country's scientific and technological talent.

Comment: This man took the time to write a lengthy and well thought out letter. Much of the content could serve as direct speech material.

Follow-up: He asks for a continuing dialogue. We should contact him perhaps for a larger group meeting of people concerned about scientific issues.

Contact: John Alexander McMahon
President
840 Lake Shore Drive
Chicago, Illinois, 60611
Tel: 312-⁶⁴⁵~~645~~-9400

Issues: Recognizes the need for enhanced access to health care for the "unserved and underserved of our society" but stresses his organization's desire to maintain the separation of the Government and the private sector in health care. Position basically parallels that of the AMA.

Comments: They are sponsoring the Ameriplan for Nat. Health Insurance, its only provision is that it calls specified minimum benefits in private health insurance policies.

Follow-up: Mr McMahon will be in Atlanta on October 31st 1974, we should invite him to stop by to see the Governor if he will be in town

ASSOCIATIONS AND ORGANIZATIONS OF NATIONAL SCOPE

There are 17,000 non-profit membership associations of national scope. For the purpose of this document I have in general listed only those organizations with more than 10,000 members. The few exceptions are those organizations with fewer members which I know to represent significant or influential constituent groups or where the membership is made up of other organizations or individuals who themselves represent large groups of people. Labor federations are the best example of this.

I have divided the Associations into the following general categories of interest:

- a) Trade, business and commercial organizations
- b) Agricultural organizations
- c) Governmental, public administration, military and legal organizations
- d) Scientific, engineering and technical organizations
- e) Educational organizations
- f) Cultural organizations
- g) Social welfare organizations
- h) Health and medical organizations
- i) Public affairs organizations
- j) Fraternal, foreign interest, nationality and ethnic organizations
- k) Religious organizations
- l) Veterans, hereditary and patriotic organizations

- m) Hobby and avocational organizations
- n) Athletic and sports organizations
- o) Labor unions
- p) Chambers of Commerce
- q) Greek letter societies

Attached is a list of major organizations in each category with basic data on membership, area of interest, and key staff person.

These organizations represent a very large number of people who, if they can be successfully reached, could represent a big and viable constituency. Some recommended steps which could be taken to maximize support from the membership of these groups include:

a) Almost every one of these organizations puts out a regular newsletter or other publication to its membership. In general they are short on material and particularly on news items to fill these publications. Providing them with material on statements the Governor makes relative to their area of concern will in most instances guarantee its distribution to the membership. Special statements might be planned with this objective in mind in order to gain the attention of certain large membership groups. Any time the Governor says anything or takes action in an area such as, for example, the environment, we should be sure that the conservation groups nationally are provided adequate information for their publications.

b) Many of these organizations will either provide a copy of their membership mailing list or put out a directory of their members. We should make a concerted effort to obtain as many of these lists as possible.

c) Based on the convention schedule of these major organizations, we should seek to obtain speaking invitations to those we determine as the most important. Also, this should be done without fail for those relatively few groups which will be meeting in Atlanta during the next year. Where addressing the convention is not appropriate or feasible, we could arrange small group meetings with their boards or key members to discuss issues that concern them relevant to the 1974 campaign.

d) At the time of the announcement, a personal letter should go to the President or key administrator of every one of these organizations. It should contain a few sentences to demonstrate knowledge about the group and awareness of their areas of interest and should solicit their support.

e) Wherever possible when dealing with a topic or issue the Governor should try to drop the name of key organizations or associations involved in that area. People tie up a part of their identity in their membership in an organization, and just the mention of it conveys a personal proximity that they respond to.

Issues: Recognizes the need for enhanced access to health care for the "unserved and underserved of our society" but stresses his organization's desire to maintain the separation of the Government and the private sector in health care. Position basically parallels that of the AMA.

Comments: They are sponsoring the Ameriplan for Nat. Health Insurance, its only provision is that it calls specified minimum benefits in private health insurance policies.

Follow-up: Mr McMahon will be in Atlanta on October 31st 1974, we should invite him to stop by to see the Governor if he will be in town
