President & Mrs. Jimmy Carter
c/o Ms. Susan Clough
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear President and Mrs. Carter:

I read in the newspaper that Billy Carter was in the hospital with bronchitis. I also heard a little of his past history on Paul Harvey. Many times bronchitis is due to an allergy therefore an allergy work-up is necessary to know how to treat the patient.

I do not know all of Billy's history or his doctor's findings however if he has such symptoms as wheezing and shortness of breath and it is not treated it will become worse.

If it is at all possible I would like to know exactly what his symptoms are and who his physician is. I would like to offer my services to both the physician and to Billy in any way that I can be of help.

Thank you for your time and consideration of my requests.

Sincerely,

Claude A. Frazier, M.D.

President Defends Billy Again

Wash Post 2/28

CARTER, From A1

"I know Billy and have known him since he was born, and I know for a fact that he is not anti-Semitic and has never made a serious, critical remark against Jews or other people in our country. To the extent that any of his remarks might be interpreted as such, I certainly do not agree and do not associate myself with them."

"Billy is my brother," the president continued. "He is seriously ill at this point. I love him: I have no intention of alleging to him any condemnation that I don't think is warranted, and I would say that I disassociate myself and my brother, Billy, from any allegations of remarks that might be anti-Semitic in nature."

It was the first time that the president has publicly commented on the recent, well-publicized exploits of his brother, which have brought sharp criticism from American Jewish groups.

In recent months, Billy has escorted representatives of Libya, the most radical of Arab states, around his native Georgia, commenting that "there's a hell of a lot more Arabians than there is Jews." Later, told remarks such as that had provoked criticism from Jewish groups, he retorted, "They can kiss my — as far as I'm concerned."

Last week Billy Carter was admitted to Sumter County Hospital in Americus, Ga., for what his physician, Dr. Paul C. Broun, said was bronchitis.

However, it was not clear yesterday whether the president was referring to that affliction, or to his younger brother's heavy drinking habit and emotional condition, when he described Billy as "seriously ill." White House press secretary Jody Powell refused to elaborate on the president's statement.

In a telephone interview yesterday, Broun disagreed that Billy Carter is seriously ill.

"Seriously ill means it could lead to his demise," Broun said. "That's not true with Billy. I wouldn't classify it as 'seriously ill.' It is perhaps an acute illness."

Broun said that Billy Carter is "recovering faster than expected" and that he had recently given that same assessment to the president's White House physician, Dr. William Lukash.

BILLY CARTER

Associated Press

Q.: Mr. President, your remarks concerning Jews, and I would like to know if you agree with your remarks.

A.: First of all, I don't know what he says or what he does, and I don't know that he is not anti-Semitic. I know that he is not anti-Semitic to the extent that any of his remarks might be interpreted as such, I certainly do not agree and do not associate myself with them.

Billy is my brother. He is seriously ill at this point. I love him: I have no intention of alleging to him any condemnation that I don't think is warranted, and I would say that I disassociate myself and my brother, Billy, from any allegations of remarks that might be anti-Semitic in nature.

After answering the question about his brother, the president was visibly relieved to turn his attention to other questions at the news conference. On other topics, he:

• For the first time, openly, although carefully, opposed the call of California Gov. Edmund G. (Jerry) Brown Jr. for a constitutional amendment requiring a balanced federal budget. Carter said the issue should not be resolved "through a very restrictive constitutional amendment." Earlier, he had opposed Brown's suggestion that a constitutional convention be convened to pass such an amendment, but not the proposed amendment itself.

• Described as "counterproductive" some aspects of the demonstrations by farmers in Washington and said he "deplored" the damage done to the city in the demonstrations. The president defended the right of the farmers to demonstrate peacefully, but said he sees "no possibility" that they will gain the kind of higher price supports they are seeking.

• Sidestepped a question on why Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal is in Peking discussing trade matters with the Chinese despite U.S. protests over the Chinese invasion of Vietnam, when last year the United States delayed the sale of oil drilling equipment to the Soviet Union.

to protect the interests of the United States. Carter said he is "completely unadvised."

The president's general comment was against "certainty."

Calling for "prudence," he pushed into elsewhere in the world.

"I have seen these foolish actions just in the Middle East. I size me back."

Egyptian-Israeli Treaty 'So Close,' Carter

From News Services

President Carter said last night it is "almost disgusting" how close Egypt and Israel are to a peace treaty but yet how far apart they remain.

"We are so close to it. The remaining differences are absolutely insignificant. It's almost disgusting," Carter said in a toast at a White House dinner honoring the nation's governors. [Related story, Page B1].

Carter also said during the toast that with the change in government in Iran, Egypt has become the "stabilizing factor" in the Middle East.

He said Iran "cannot be considered a policeman anymore" in that region.

On another topic, the president said he hopes that within the next few months both the Soviet Union and China will receive most-favored-nation status with the United States.

On the Middle East, the president said that both Egypt and Israel "yearn so deeply for peace and we have absolutely insignificant differences that are now creating insurmountable obstacles."

He said the United States has been fair, despite the criticism it has received from both nations. He added philosophically that such criticism is probably inherent in the role of mediators.

Fabian Chavez, Jr., as Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism effective March 31, 1979.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

To Fabian Chavez

It is with regret that I accept your resignation as Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism effective March 31, 1979, although I understand your decision to return to your home state. During your almost two years of federal service, you can take pride in many specific accomplishments: your contributions to a tourism agreement with Mexico; the successful negotiation of increased air routes with Mexico and other countries; your exploration of new countries as sources of tourism to the United States; and the development of a tourism bill of rights.

I wish you great success in your future career. The talents and hard work which you have devoted to your federal career will be a great asset to the people of New Mexico.

Sincerely,

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

It is with deep regret that I submit my resignation to you as Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism to be effective March 31, 1979.

I am deeply, personally grateful for having had the honor of serving you and our country in this important position and will forever cherish it as one of the highlights of my career in public life.

Aside from the fact that the Executive budget requests that the position of Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism be abolished in the 1980 fiscal year, I have determined that I should return to my beloved State of New Mexico for other reasons, some of which are personal.

I will leave the Federal Government scene completely convinced that the tourism industry is one of the most important industries in our American economic sector, and that our international tourism efforts are extremely important and have contributed hundreds of millions of dollars to our economy as a result of the programs developed by the United States Travel Service over the past sixteen years.

In addition to the economic contributions made to our country, untold goodwill and understanding of our way of life have been developed as a result of the millions of foreign visitors who come to the United States.

I am particularly honored to have had the privilege to serve at your direction as a member of the Mexico-United States Consultative Mechanism and as Chairman of the Mechanism Sub-group on Tourism.

The President
March 5, 1979

In a short period of time, we were able to negotiate the most expanded and liberal international air route agreement in the history of the United States with our good neighbors to the South.

We also successfully negotiated a tourism agreement between the United States and Mexico -- the first in the history of our country.

Just last week, Ambassador Patrick Lucey, U. S. Astronaut Alan Bean and I joined President Jose Lopez Portillo at the inaugural ceremonies of the 26th Annual Home Trade Show. This is the largest exhibition of its size in the Western Hemisphere attracting nearly five million people in one month. The main theme of the fair is "U. S. Space Achievements". This theme was developed and coordinated by my office as a direct result of the cultural exchange section of our tourism agreement and involved the cooperation of the Smithsonian, NASA and the Mexican authorities.

Recently, we had a very successful meeting of the Mexico-United States Quadripartite Commission which resulted in joint agreements between representatives of government and the private sector of both countries which will develop into multi-million dollar investments in tourist projects in Mexico.

I was very pleased to learn that during your recent visit with President Lopez Portillo he was very complimentary on the efforts and results by the Subgroup on Tourism of the Mexico-United States Consultative Mechanism and feel humbly honored to have made my contribution.

While I must return to my home in Santa Fe, New Mexico, feel assured that I will continue in whatever way possible to contribute to the well-being of our country. I have been blessed with having had the privilege to serve my country for nearly five years as a soldier in World War II and then again, thanks to you, as Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism.

God bless you.

Respectfully,

Fabian Chavez, Jr.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: LOUIS MARTIN

SUBJECT: Meeting with the Board of Directors of the National Newspaper Publishers Association on the occasion of Black Press Week, Cabinet Room, Thursday, March 15, 1979, 11:00 a.m.

I. PURPOSE

To meet with the Board of Directors of the National Newspaper Publishers Association on the occasion of Black Press Week, March 14-17, 1979.

II. BACKGROUND, PARTICIPATION AND PRESS

- A. Background: The first Black newspaper was founded in New York City on March 16, 1827. It was published by John B. Russwurm, who was also the first Black graduate of a college, Bowdoin in Maine in 1826.

National Newspaper Publishers Association represents most of the Black newspapers which are principally weeklies. The publisher of the most important daily is John H. Sengstacke of the Chicago Daily Defender who is president of NNPA. The organization was founded in 1940.

As president of NNPA, John Sengstacke will read an opening statement on behalf of the publishers. He will set forth points covering a wide spectrum of Black concerns.

Practically all the newspapers in NNPA gave editorial endorsements to your candidacy in 1976.

CURRENT TALKING POINTS
NATIONAL NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1979

CABINET ROOM

APPOINTMENTS

1. We are moving forward in major appointments of Blacks. Soon appointments will be announced to Interstate Commerce Commission, Civil Aeronautics Board, Federal Reserve Board, and International Trade Commission. The nomination of Blacks to the Federal Judiciary is proceeding very well and for the first time in history Black judges will be named to the bench in the deep South. Gabrielle McDonald has been nominated to the U.S. District Court in the Southern district of Texas; David Nelson to the U.S. District Court in Massachusetts; John Penn to the U.S. District Court in the District of Columbia; and Theodore McMillian to the 8th Circuit.

YOUTH UNEMPLOYMENT

2. Youth unemployment is a major concern of the government. Despite the fact that recent reports show a one month increase in the unemployment rate for Black teenagers, the number of young Blacks between the ages of 16 and 19 that are working has gone up from 575,000 in January 1977 to 703,000 in January 1979, to 714,000 in February 1979. This represents an increase of 11,000 in just the last month. We have also restored $400 million in countercyclical funds for urban areas which have high unemployment. The problem has been an increase in the size of the labor force. Discouraged workers are now beginning to seek jobs.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

3. We are moving dramatically to stimulate Black economic development. Large contracts are being awarded to minority businesses. A $22 million contract was recently awarded to the American Pouch Company, a Chicago firm. We expect to meet the goal of tripling federal minority procurement by 1980, bringing the total to $3 billion annually.

TALKING POINTS

FOR MEETING - MONDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1978

ROOSEVELT ROOM - 11:00 AM

The past two years have seen the most concentrated legislative and administrative activity in the Civil Rights field since the 1960's. Among the major accomplishments:

. Wilmington Ten - The Justice Department filed an amicus brief in the Wilmington Ten Case by Drew Days, Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights.

. The Omnibus Judgeships Act of 1978 - This law will increase the number of federal judges by nearly 30%, providing an opportunity to correct the historic underrepresentation of minorities and women on the bench.

. The Civil Rights Reorganization - The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has broader enforcement responsibilities for the overall coordination of federal anti-discrimination efforts. Efforts to increase equal opportunity and affirmative action provisions in contracts has been consolidated in one office in the Labor Department, rather than in 13 different agencies.

. Bakke - The Administration filed an amicus brief in support of affirmative action programs, and following the decision, directed the departments to continue vigorous implementation of affirmative action programs.

. Appointments - Presidential and discretionary appointments of minorities in the past two years have far exceeded previous numbers.

. District of Columbia Representation - The proposed constitutional amendment to establish full voting representation in Congress for the District of Columbia was passed and sent to the states for ratification.

. ERA Ratification Extension - Congress approved an extension of the deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: THE VICE PRESIDENT
SUBJECT: CALL TO SENATOR STENNIS ON THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT'S DECISION TO SEND THE SARATOGA TO PHILADELPHIA

Senators Byrd and Warner are seeking Senator Stennis' support in their effort to reverse the Defense Department's decision to send the carrier Saratoga to the Philadelphia Navy Yard. The Virginia Senators' plan to amend the fiscal 1980 Military Procurement Authorization bill. Stennis' position on this issue will certainly determine the outcome in the Senate Armed Services Committee and probably on the Senate floor. While in the past Stennis has supported Harry Byrd in his efforts to have the Saratoga sent to Newport News and will be inclined to do so again, he may be responsive to a direct appeal by you asking that he support the Defense Department's decision. I would suggest the following talking points:

1. As you know, the Defense Department reaffirmed its decision last April that the first Forrestal class carrier, the Saratoga, should be refurbished under the Service Life Extension Program (SLEP) at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. I support this decision. It is in the best interests of the Navy and the future of our carrier force.
2. I hope the Armed Services Committee will not further delay implementation of the SLEP program. It is essential that the Navy be permitted to begin preparations for the Saratoga's modernization so that the SLEP program can proceed on schedule.

To Evan Dobelle

As we have discussed, my intention for the next two years is to continue to work on the paramount issues before the country as my first obligation and priority. This decision makes it inappropriate for me to declare my candidacy at this time.

I am grateful, however, to you and others who wish to begin organizing a committee to support my reelection as President. I fully understand the hard work and the exciting challenge that lies ahead, and the need to begin the necessary preparations for a successful effort. In order to allow the committee to be in full compliance with all Federal election statutes and regulations, I have signed today the required Federal Elections Commission form authorizing its creation.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

To Evan Dobbelle

As we have discussed, my intention for the next two years is to continue to work on the paramount issues before the country as my first obligation and priority. This decision makes it inappropriate for me to declare my candidacy at this time.

I am grateful, however, to you and others who wish to begin organizing a committee to support my reelection as President. I fully understand the hard work and the exciting challenge that lies ahead, and the need to begin the necessary preparations for a successful effort. In order to allow the committee to be in full compliance with all Federal election statutes and regulations, I have signed today the required Federal Elections Commission form authorizing its creation.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Jimmy Carter". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".
