III. INTRODUCTION

To the extent possible this should be a "regular Leadership" breakfast. Though some will want to focus primarily on inflation and the budget, you should talk about a number of other matters of concern to the Congress and the Administration.

IV. AGENDA

A. ECONOMIC CONSULTATIONS

You should thank the Leadership for getting the working group started, indicate that you know it is meeting daily and working hard to come up with a program we as Democrats can take to the American people. You should say that Secretary Miller will give you daily reports on the progress of the working group.

You should also mention that the Economic Policy Group members and Congressional Liaison people are holding a large number of one-on-one meetings to garner suggestions from Members and Senators. You will receive written summaries of each conversation.

You should also make the following points:

o Working together I am confident that we will come up with a program which will both meet the economic crisis

for Preservation Purposes and permit us to meet our political needs.

- When we have decided on the components of the program, I will take the primary responsibility for communicating them to the American people.

- Senator Byrd, though I believe that this has to be a Democratic program, I agree that we should involve key Republicans very soon. As you know, some of my staff met with some Senate Republicans yesterday. We will meet with more Congressional Republicans in a day or so.

- Finally, I have a simple message. I do not intend to sign spending bills which exceed my budget requests by appreciable amounts.

Note: The two bills you highlighted in the Weekly Legislative Report

- Military Physician Pay - passed both houses, exceeds our request by 100% ($80 million vs. $40 million per year)

- Higher Education - in the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee. The House-passed student assistance section could be as much as $3 billion over our FY 81 proposal.

B. SELECTIVE SERVICE REGISTRATION

While it helped by thwarting Congressional add-ons in such areas as trade adjustment assistance and disability insurance, yesterday's action by the Senate Budget Committee in filing the FY 80 budget reestimates has had serious consequences for two administration initiatives--the Foreign Assistance Conference Report and Selective Service registration. It is unlikely that we can resurrect the Foreign Assistance bill before the Third FY 80 Budget Resolution is passed in May. Until then, we will have to rely on the appropriation level set in the continuing resolution that was passed last Fall. (We see no reason to raise this issue with the Leadership.)

However, the funds for Selective Service registration are a somewhat different case. Because we are seeking only $13.4 million at this stage, there may be other ways to get around the technical problems posed by the Budget Act.

We suffered a setback last week when our request for money to register men was defeated in the House HUD-Independent Agencies Subcommittee on a 6-6 tie. Our current headcount for the full Appropriations Committee shows 31 Members "yes" or "leaning yes", 16 "no" or "leaning no", and 7 "undecided." While we appear to have enough votes to win in the full committee, there is increasing evidence of Republican partisanship. If the Republicans were to make this a partisan issue, liberal Democrats and a solid Republican opposition would make it very difficult to pass the appropriations in the House--much less defeat a Senate filibuster.

Rather than propose specific solutions to the problems posed by the Budget Act, you should restate the importance of registration and ask the Speaker and Senator Byrd to work together to find a way to get the appropriation passed. In doing so you should indicate that you are aware that Chairman Boland has been extremely helpful.

C. ENERGY

UTILITY OIL BACKOUT

Senator Byrd is certain to raise "coal conversion." You should simply say that your proposal will be sent to the Hill on Thursday.

ESC

Since you last met with the Leadership, the conferees have made progress. They have resolved their Title I, Part A differences and now plan to meet every day until they complete the bill. Your comments should be upbeat, expressing hope that the conferees can realize the goal of finishing soon.

Note: EMB has been set aside until ESC is completed.

D. TRUCKING DEREGULATION

The Senate Commerce Committee will mark up the trucking deregulation bill on Thursday. Senators Magnuson and Inouye are on the Committee and are under heavy pressure from the Teamsters to vote against reform. You should say:

- This legislation is very important. It is a major test of our ability to fight inflation and to eliminate needless regulatory controls.

- Senator Cannon's bill does not go as far as ours--and we support some amendments--but it is a good, reasonable compromise. It will increase competition and remove restrictions that waste fuel and raise prices.
There will be efforts to gut Cannon's bill by closing off entry, continuing price-fixing, and stifling competition. Such amendments would make this bill regressive.

I urge Senators Magnuson and Inouye to at least support Senator Cannon's bill.

E. MULTILATERAL DEVELOPMENT BANK AUTHORIZATION BILL

As mentioned above, the Senate Budget Committee's action will force us to rely on the funding level set in last Fall's continuing resolution. This will hurt in Central America, with refugees and with PL-480.

You should ask the House Leadership to help by getting the MDB Authorization bill passed. You should say:

- Passage is necessary if the Inter-American Development Bank, the Asian Development Fund, and the African Development Fund are to be able to use the continuing resolution during FY 80.
- Without H.R. 3829, current U.S. involvement in these institutions will essentially stop and contributions from other countries may be sharply curtailed.

F. FOREIGN POLICY

I suggest that you give the Leadership brief updates on Iran, Afghanistan and Colombia.

PRESS GUIDANCE
UN SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION

Q: Where was the failure in communication?

A: The Secretary accepts responsibility for the failure in communications and there's no point in going into it further. I'm not going into the process or staff procedures.

Q: What was the main point that was not communicated?

A: Consistent with our past position, we were prepared to support a resolution which reiterated our policy on settlements without raising the issues involved in the Jerusalem question.

Q: Does that mean you agree with the substance of the resolution on Jerusalem but simply for tactical reasons wanted to avoid saying it right now?

A: Last night's statement says all I am going to say on this issue. Our policy remains unchanged. Jerusalem should be undivided with free access to the holy places. Its status should be determined in the negotiations for a comprehensive peace settlement.

Q: If you believe the word "dismantle" was "neither proper nor practical," why did you vote for the resolution?

A: In dealing with resolutions of this kind, we frequently face a choice between voting for a resolution which has some language we don't accept and rejecting a resolution whose overall thrust we support. The normal practice in a situation like this is to state our disagreements when we explain our vote. That is what we did in this case after we failed to get the word "dismantle" taken out of the resolution.

Q: Why is the call for dismantling "neither proper nor practical"?

A: As the statement says, we believe the future disposition of existing settlements must be determined during the current autonomy negotiation.

Q: Is Washington dissociating itself from Ambassador McHenry?

A: Of course not. The Secretary accepts responsibility. We have total confidence in Ambassador McHenry.

Q: Doesn't this statement get you the worst of all worlds? It will not be enough to undo the shock of the resolution on the Israelis. The Arabs will see it as a retreat. The Administration looks inefficient.

A: This is a forthright statement of our position and we hope it will be judged as such.

Q: Knowing that this was a no-win situation, why did you not decide to abstain at the outset?

A: I am not going to go into all the considerations that went into this decision.
Q: What is the problem with the formulations in the resolution? Which ones do you disagree with?

A: I am not going to go into a point-by-point discussion of the text. Our policy has been clearly stated on a number of occasions.

Q: What is your policy on Jerusalem?

A: This was clearly stated in one of the Camp David documents which referred to past fuller statements of U.S. positions. (Statements in the United Nations by Ambassador Goldberg in July 1967 and subsequently Ambassador Yost in July 1969.)

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
FROM: STU EIZENSTAT
SUBJECT: Letter to John Filer re Private Sector Initiatives Program

Attached is a draft letter which John Filer requested from you affirming our support for NAB's new direction. The speechwriters have approved the text.
To John Filer

I have followed with interest the efforts of the National Alliance of Business in support of the implementation of our new private sector initiatives program. As you know, this Administration is committed to meeting the needs of our nation's disadvantaged youths and adults. Title VII of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act has been passed and funded. The Targeted Jobs Tax Credit is underway. The White House Interagency Coordinating Council is seeking to assure that jobs will be generated for the disadvantaged in our economic development efforts.

I am aware that you and the NAB staff, particularly your new president, Bill Kolberg, have been very supportive of our effort to develop the new youth initiatives program. I believe this new effort, which will broaden the base of public support by including the new Department of Education, will further strengthen our nation's capacity to assist the hard to employ.

I am also looking to NAB for the leadership and support necessary to encourage businesses of all sizes to participate at the local level to assure the success of the private industry councils and employment and economic development efforts.

The members of this Administration and I look forward to working with you and Bill Kolberg in NAB's continuing effort to make this public/private partnership work on behalf of our nation's disadvantaged youth and adults.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Dear Mr. President, Rosalyn, and Lucy:

How can I ever thank you enough for your kind welcoming letter?

No higher honor has ever been made to me than being called by your name. It is rare to have been invited to be part of the church of the Lord. It has been my privilege to serve and to be of service to those who have been so kind to me.

I have been blessed to have served here in the church for a lifetime. When first you came I promised you and each member of your family, a place in the coming prayers. I have kept that promise and will continue to do so as long as I am able.

I am grateful for the memories of the office in which I have worked. My prayers will surely be answered, and I will be grateful to the Lord with much love for each of you. God bless you.
