MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Frank Moore
Dan Tate

SUBJECT: The Senate Majority Leader

No one is more disturbed by the Majority Leader's recent statements and actions than we. We cannot point to any single incident or motive which explains his words and deeds. More than likely, it is a combination of factors and we will discuss several of them hereafter. We can make one statement with a high degree of confidence: The Majority Leader has done nothing unintentionally; he has calculated his words and actions carefully. Naturally, he cannot control how they are reported and interpreted by the press, but one might argue that he has done little to clarify press "inaccuracies".

- (1) There is little doubt that the Senator is still quite piqued about the meeting you and he had on the hostage rescue effort. He believes he was misled.
- (2) He was upset when we intervened in the Congressional Budget process for what he felt were purely political purposes. His retaliation came in the form of his abandonment of the gasoline fee. It was his way of teaching us a lesson. We believe he engaged in overkill, and we suspect that he does not yet fully appreciate the implications of his actions.
- (3) On the other hand, one might assume that Byrd merely used the Budget Resolution as an excuse for disassociating himself from a losing cause. He had held numerous luncheons with and had actively lobbied his colleagues before the Budget flap; still, he had received only 25 or 26 commitments and had only about a dozen prospects from which he could obtain the additional 7 or 8 needed. He was probably already worried that he would fall short regardless of his level of effort and, when Domenici revoked his commitment (and Hollings expressed pretty much the same view), Byrd saw the inevitable. He then declared that he would no longer actively seek votes.

What he may have wanted to avoid was a defeat for himself. He enjoys the reputation of never having lost a major fight and he revels in that. The situation developed nicely for him -- he had an excuse to back away (our intervention in the Budget) and someone to blame (you).

- (4) Senator Byrd was not pleased with your remarks about his debating his opponents in his West Virginia race. His rationale (which may be somewhat strained) is that in encouraging you to debate Senator Kennedy, he was speaking as a leader of the Democratic Party on a matter affecting both the Party and the Nation -- and that his views as a Senator representing West Virginia did not enter into the discussion; therefore, your comments about his politics as an individual Senator were inappropriate and gratuitous.
- (5) Senator Byrd does not fear you politically. He is much more powerful in the Senate than you. He is able to dispense favors on a daily basis and able to reward friends and punish enemies far more easily than you. The Leader is in a position to make or break a Senator's career with Committee assignments and to accommodate a Senator in lesser matters (by scheduling key votes around that Senator's travel plans, etc.). He is a current force and, owing to the fact that you will be in office for only four more years, is a force Senators fear. In short, if a Senator must choose between your wishes and Byrd's, he will go with Byrd.
- (6) The Leader is obsessed with power. He rarely acknowledges Presidential legislative victories; rather he speaks in terms of what the Congress has achieved. In pushing Administration bills, he prefers to do the work himself and has Administration people merely as props or supporting characters. It is almost as if he wants to demonstrate to you and the world that he holds the fate of our initiatives in his hands and that he wins the victories, not us. Conversely, he demonstrates that if he is not involved or is not working for one of our bills, it fails. Ostensibly, all he wants from us is our sincere thanks. Practically, he wants and expects much more, not from us but in the eyes of the press and his colleagues -- credit, respect, and the perception of great power. Once, in a meeting involving several of his constituents, he remarked, "I am the second most powerful man in Washington and I do not know why they say the second most powerful." He then went on to discuss how he had the votes to override our veto of the water bill a couple of years ago (had the House not sustained).

- (7) Senator Byrd sees that there is still a very slim chance that Senator Kennedy could pull off a miracle and get the nomination. Even if this does not occur, Byrd realizes that Kennedy will be a very significant force in both the Senate and the Party in the foreseeable future -- long after we are off the scene. The Leader does not want to alienate Kennedy with any statements which tilt toward you. Byrd is courting Kennedy's favor. Senator Kennedy can hurt Byrd tremendously in the Senate. If we lose the election, Kennedy may emerge as the voice of the Democrats in the country and will undoubtedly want to use the Senate as his forum. Byrd wants to make sure that his differences with the Senator are limited to substance and are not aggravated by political pique.
- (8) As a follow-up to the preceding point, Senator Byrd is ever-wary of potential rivals for his position of Majority Leader. He protects his flanks. He does not want to be too closely associated with you in the event that we lose the election; he does not want to be swept out as Majority Leader because he was your "man" in the Senate. Additionally, he sees that Kennedy may choose to challenge him for the Leadership post he now holds. Kennedy will want a forum from which he could launch a drive for the White House in 1984 and the best pulpit would be the Majority Leadership. That Kennedy could beat Byrd for the position is extremely doubtful, but Byrd is going to be prepared for every contingency so he is doing nothing to make Kennedy and his supporters in the Senate mad. We suspect that Byrd has looked at all of the options and has decided that "evenhandedness" carries with it fewer risks to him than being in our corner politically. He hopes to have the best of both worlds: He can say to Kennedy and his supporters that he is studiously neutral in the political fight going on, and he can say to us that he is carrying our water every day on legislation, thus building a record on which we can win the election.
- (9) Finally, Senator Byrd is fearful of significant Democratic losses in the Senate. He wants to insure continued interest by all factions in the party, realizing that if substantial numbers of Democrats do not participate in the political process several Senators will lose their seats. Therefore, he may want to keep the Democratic contest open for as long as possible. He also realizes that if John Anderson runs, he will bring to the polls a substantial number of voters who will support both him and Democratic senatorial candidates. We realize that this is a very cynical statement on our part; however, it is indisputable that discord within the Democratic party encourages the Anderson candidacy which the professionals view as helpful to other Democratic office-seekers. Byrd's highest priority is the Senate, not the White House.

In the early months of 1977, Byrd said he would not be your man in the Senate, but he would be your friend in the Senate. He has helped us tremendously and he will continue to do so. But he will keep his distance. We cannot bring about a dramatic metamorphosis in him between now and the convention. It would be futile and counterproductive to even attempt to do so.

From: Jim Johnson

I. PURPOSE

The purpose of this meeting is to greet Mrs. Richard J. Daley, State Senator Richard M. Daley, Jr. (Candidate for Cook County States Attorney), and other members of the Daley family.

II. BACKGROUND

Mrs. Richard J. Daley is "the first lady of Chicago" even though her husband has been dead now for almost 4 years. She hosted a visit by the Vice President to their neighborhood, Bridgeport, during the primary campaign. She is a strong supporter of yours.

The family is visiting Washington on the occasion of a major fundraiser for "Richie" Daley's campaign. Tonight they are having a dinner at the Washington Hilton at $500 a person. A large number of guests are coming to Washington from Chicago. There is a White House briefing for the Chicago guests tomorrow.

The active support of the Daley family will be critical in the fall campaign. Ideally your campaign and the Daley's campaign would be very closely coordinated.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Weekly Report of HHS Activities

Mount St. Helens. The Department's surveillance of the health effects related to the Mount St. Helens' volcanic eruption has found instances of mucous membrane and upper respiratory irritation in Washington, Idaho, Montana, and Oregon. A health team is conducting a field survey of 200 families to collect additional information on potential health problems in the area. There is no evidence, however, of increased severe respiratory illness related to the dust exposure.

Health Services for Newly Arriving Cubans. Private health institutions have incurred $160,000 in expenses to provide health care and supplies to the Cubans. The Public Health Service has redirected $200,000 from other programs in order to meet these expenses. The Office of General Counsel is researching the legality of paying for services provided to Cubans after they leave the detention center.

Energy Conservation. The Department exceeded its conservation goal for the President's "Energy Conservation Year," which ended March 31, 1980. Energy consumption in buildings was reduced by 4.6 percent and in vehicle use by 20.6 percent. The total reduction of 5.6 percent over the previous year exceeded the Department's goal.

Harvard Speech. I spoke at the Harvard Medical School Commencement on Thursday. In my speech I called for consideration of the establishment of an International Health Service Corps and underscored the need to widen access to health care for all our people.

White House Conference on Families. Your speech at the first of three White House Conferences at the Baltimore Convention Center was well received. Over 800 people attended the 3-day session, which is to end tomorrow. The Conference will also hold meetings in Minneapolis June 19-21 and in Los Angeles July 10-12.

MEMORANDUM FOR: The President
Attention: Rick Hutcheson, Staff Secretary

SUBJECT: Weekly Report of Major Activities

Appointments

The appointments of Cynthia Brown, Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights-Designate and Edwin Martin, Assistant Secretary for Special Education and Rehabilitative Services-Designate were sent to the Senate on June 6.

Confirmation Hearings

Confirmation hearings for Martha Keys, Assistant Secretary for Legislation-Designate and Daniel Taylor, Assistant Secretary for Vocational and Adult Education-Designate were held by the Senate Labor and Human Resource Committee on June 5. Confirmation by the full Senate is expected shortly.

Annual Report

The annual "Condition of Education" report to Congress was issued on June 3. The report highlights recent trends in enrollments, student absenteeism, and the cost of education.

Meetings

I met with Senator Moynihan to discuss his views on aid to private education on June 4. A series of meetings between senior Departmental staff and a delegation headed by the Minister of Education for the People's Republic of China also began on that day.

Electrostatic Copy Made

Speeches

On June 9, I will address a meeting of the Women's National Democratic Club.

I will address the American Association of Museums Conference on June 11.

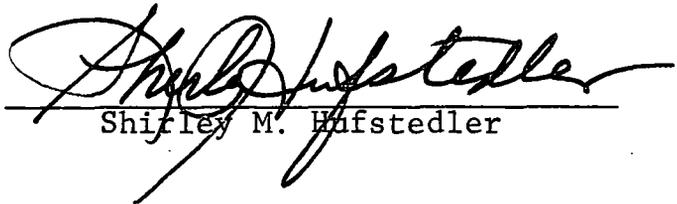

On June 13 and 14, I will be in California to address the graduating classes of the University of California Irvine Medical School and Occidental College.

Travel

On June 15, I will leave for Sofia, Bulgaria to attend the UNESCO Third Ministers of Education Conference for the European Region. I will return via Paris and London, where I will meet with appropriate educational officials.

Initiatives

The Department is exploring ways of addressing the educational needs of refugees and offering educational programs to school-age youths during the summer months. I will keep you apprised of our activities in these areas.

Principal Activities of the Department of Justice for the Week of May 31 through June 6, 1980

1. Miami Civil Rights Indictment

A former Florida highway patrol officer was indicted on federal civil rights charges on June 5. The indictment results from an investigation into the incident in which the officer falsely arrested and molested an 11-year-old girl. The officer was sentenced to three years probation on state charges. If convicted on the federal charges, the officer could be sentenced to two years in jail and fined $2000.

2. Record Cocaine Seizure

Drug Enforcement Administration agents seized a record 854 pounds of the substance used to make cocaine and arrested two men as a result of a six-month undercover investigation. The seizure represents the single largest recovery of the narcotic in law enforcement history. The investigation involved a number of DEA agents infiltrating the drug ring and actually traveling to South America with the suspects to purchase and transport the cocaine base.

3. San Francisco Voting Rights Case

A federal court in San Francisco entered a consent decree in a suit brought by the Civil Rights Division to enforce the language minority provisions in the Voting Rights Act. The case represents the Department's most successful litigative victory under those provisions of the law. Suit was filed after investigation revealed widespread complaints that Chinese and Spanish-speaking citizens in San Francisco were unable to understand English language balloting material and mono-lingual polling officials. The consent decree details the steps the city must take to provide minority language voter outreach, voter registration and polling place aids.

4. Cuba Situation

Since the May 14 policy statement, there have been 831 constructive and 73 actual seizures of vessels returning from Cuba with passengers. Additionally, there have now been a total of 90 felony arrests of persons violating Treasury regulations, immigration laws or provisions of the constructive seizure agreements. A total of 1725 vessels have received notices of intent to fine since the boat flow began. Final administrative orders to collect the fines have been entered in almost 100 cases, and adjudication of disputed cases has commenced. 677 persons have been detained in various facilities because of their past records. A rough estimate is that up to 300 have serious criminal records. Exclusion proceedings for these individuals, involving review by the State Department of asylum claims and initial review by INS attorneys and an immigration judge, has commenced.

5. Meetings and Events

The Attorney General and other Departmental officials attended the Judicial Conference of the District of Columbia Circuit held in Williamsburg, Virginia on June 2. On June 3, the Attorney General and Presidential Assistant Stephen Aiello took part in ceremonies sponsored by the Italian Historical Society honoring Representative Mario Biaggi (D.N.Y.) with the Charles J. Bonaparte Award. On June 5 the Attorney General, the Associate Attorney General and others met with Mayor McConn of Houston to discuss the Department's school desegregation suit against that city and its suburban communities. On June 6, the Attorney General delivered the commencement address at the Battle Monument School, a Baltimore school for children who are physically limited or have moderate intellectual capabilities.

6. Personnel

Gerald E. McDowell, a career attorney in the Department who has been serving as deputy chief of the organized crime section, has been named to replace Thomas H. Henderson as chief of the Public Integrity Section of the Criminal Division.

SUBJECT: Weekly Report of Significant Agency Activity

DATE: June 6, 1980

CSA has completed its final evaluation of the Rural Home Repair Demonstration Program. The dual purpose of the demonstration was to repair the homes of low-income persons in the bottom half of the CSA poverty guidelines and to train CETA workers for jobs in the building trades. The program operated at a total of 21 sites over a three year period and resulted in the repair of more than 4,000 homes.

The evaluation report concluded that the quality of repairs under the program was exceptionally good and the CETA workers received proper training to enable them to succeed in the private sector. CSA considers the program to be a success and is seeking to identify other sources of funds to continue and expand the program in the future.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON 20220

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

Subject: Highlights of Treasury Activities

1. THE MARKETS AND THE DOLLAR

- . Despite some profit-taking at week's end, stocks rose on balance in heavy trading. Analysts attributed the gains to declining interest rates. The Dow Jones index rose 10.69 points from last Friday to close at 861.52, 102.39 points above the April 21 low of 759.13.
- . Interest rates dropped over the week in moderate, mostly professional trading. Declines in Treasury securities prices early in the week reflected concern over the huge supply of Treasury securities ($16.2 billion) auctioned on Monday and Tuesday in the wake of the 5-day debt limit extension by Congress. The bond market firmed following the release of statistics showing slowing in the economy and in the rate of price increase.
- . Most major banks are posting prime rates of 13 percent compared with 14 percent last week.
- . Gold prices, which began rising last week, reached $600 bid today -- a $46.50 increase from May 30. The June silver contract on COMEX rose by $2.85 to close at $16.80.
- . The dollar was fairly steady in generally quiet markets. The dollar weakened in London. It fell 0.35 percent against the German mark, 1.21 percent against the Swiss franc and 1.86 percent against the Japanese yen. Only minor U.S. intervention was required early in the week.

2. CHRYSLER

- . Chrysler's first guaranteed borrowings will be delayed until the third or fourth week in June because of the extra time needed to prepare the complex documentation.

3. CASH MANAGEMENT

- On June 10, the Treasury will publish final regulations implementing the largest of the six cash management initiatives included in the 1980 and 1981 Budgets. The initiatives, which in all cases but one become effective January 1, 1981, alter the payments schedule for income taxes withheld from employees and for FICA taxes.
- As a result of these measures, the budget deficit will decrease by $2.5 billion in fiscal 1981, $2.2 billion in 1982, and about $1 billion a year thereafter.

FYI

REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

During the period May 24-June 5, Deputy Secretary Christopher and I led the U.S. Delegation to the OECD Ministerial Meeting in Paris; I joined Secretary Marshall at the opening of the ILO meeting in Geneva; and I held bilateral discussions with officials of Poland, Hungary, Italy, and Greece, in addition to my chairing the U.S. Delegation to the U.S.-Poland Joint Economic Mission.

While there was feeling at the ILO that inadequate emphasis was being placed by the OECD nations upon the problem of unemployment, the discussions at both the OECD and the ILO evidenced far greater areas of agreement than disagreement, notably with regard to three issues: the global nature of the world economy and the need for increased coordination and cooperation among nations with regard to economic and trade policies; the need to press the fight against inflation and growing unemployment; and the concern that North-South issues would emerge soon at a universal session.

Bilateral discussions in Poland, Hungary, Italy, and Greece were marked by great concern for trade imbalances with the United States and for the need to increase exports to the United States. I believe that our own ability to maintain or increase exports to such countries may depend upon our deriving a strategy which will enable increased exports to the U.S. of selected product lines which have minimal negative consequences on U.S. industry.

With regard to steel, the anti-dumping cases continue to be very disturbing to our Western allies, especially to France. In my conversations I emphasized the need for each country to expedite its provision of requisite information so as to enable accelerated disposition of the cases. Upon my return I was visited by several top steel executives who echoed this concern for the over-hanging cases and further emphasized a concern for the recent rise in steel imports. One leading company urged that consideration be given to reinstatement of the TPM under a modified formula. My belief is that the recent surge in imports is attributable to orders placed several months ago and not to the suits. However, if the next two months continue to show such an increase, it could precipitate serious problems particularly in light of the decline in domestic production.

In the near future I will provide you with a more detailed report on my European discussions.

MEMORANDUM TO: The President
Attention: Rick Hutcheson, Staff Secretary

Subject: Weekly Report of Major Departmental Activities

Home Builder Rate Dropped. On Tuesday, June 3, we announced that the temporary FHA interest rate for home builders which was established on May 15 is being lowered. The higher rate -- which was designed to provide financial relief to builders carrying unsold homes at excessively high construction loan costs -- is no longer needed to help builders secure mortgage financing. By lowering the rate from 14 percent to 11.5 percent (the current ceiling for FHA-insured single-family home mortgages), we are responding to rapid changes that have taken place in the money markets over the past month.

National Consumer Forum Draws Large Crowd. On June 2-3, 1980, approximately 500 mayors, town managers, community development directors, bankers, developers and public interest group representatives from across the country attended a two-day National Consumer Forum entitled "Meeting the Developmental Needs of Small Cities" at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. C. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the critical developmental needs of small cities and ways for meeting those needs. In opening remarks I emphasized HUD's continuing commitment to assure that our housing and community development programs reach into the small communities and rural places in this country. Jack Watson discussed the Administration's Small Community and Rural Development Policy and steps taken to implement the policy. He also described two important small community and rural initiatives, the Circuit Rider Initiative and the Mainstreets downtown revitalization project. The Forum was very well received by participants, and we are pleased at its success.

Mayors' Annual Meeting Opens. This weekend the 49th annual meeting of the U.S. Conference of Mayors opens in Seattle. I will leave for the meeting tomorrow and will deliver a speech to the gathering on Monday. Other HUD officials participating in the meeting are Assistant Secretaries Robert C. Embry, Jr., Lawrence B. Simons and Sterling Tucker.

REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Douglas M. Costle

We achieved a major international breakthrough in controlling hazardous chemicals at a special meeting of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development two weeks ago in Paris.

The twenty-four countries belonging to the Organization, which produce over two-thirds of the world's chemicals and account for annual sales of more than $300 billion:

- agreed to screen chemicals before they are introduced into commerce to detect those posing a danger to human health or the environment;
- defined the minimum data that must be supplied by a manufacturer prior to marketing;
- established more than 100 uniform testing guidelines; and
- adopted common laboratory practices to improve the quality and comparability of data.

This represents a major first step towards international recognition and harmonized regulation of hazardous chemical exposure. The agreement should also help to prevent chemical regulation from becoming a significant non-tariff trade barrier, thus fostering an open world trading system in accord with the Trade Agreements Act of 1979.

I am particularly pleased with this agreement because it represents a very significant example of international institution building that is largely the result of initiatives taken by your Administration.

VA Presidential Update

Max L. ...

Upbeat Program - You have every right to be proud of the new Vietnam veteran readjustment counseling program you finally got approved by Congress. At a recent Senate-side hearing, witness after witness lauded the fast start on the program and the progress made in a relatively few months. Early success of the program was well reported in the media. A lengthy AP dispatch on the hearings said this "new offensive at home is winning battles against veterans' chronic adjustment problems." AP described the testimony as "upbeat," and quoted committee chairman Alan Cranston as saying the new program "represents a major positive effort on the part of the federal government to deal responsibly and effectively" with a major problem. I reported at the hearing that our Vet Center storefront operation was ahead of schedule on all counts. Eighty centers are in full operation; 6 more are partly operational, and we are negotiating leases for 5 additional centers. Well over 12,000 alienated veterans have been counseled - generating more than 3,600 family visits and over 21,000 follow-on telephone calls in behalf of veterans.

Cuban Refugee VA Patients - Recent admission of 13 refugees to Tampa VA Hospital created real controversy. Although all 13 patients were soon returned to Eglin AFB or transferred to out of state PHS facility, Administration was severely criticized by Legion and DAV National Commanders as well as Congressmen from Florida and local veteran leaders. Chairman Ray Roberts and several HVAC members denounced the action in floor speeches. Although critics claimed admission of the non-citizens deprived veterans of medical care, VA pointed out this was not the case. Media reported the criticism along with accounts of protest picketing at one Florida VA hospital. We have accepted no more Cuban patients and are working with FEMA to use VA facilities only as a last resort after exploring community and other non-VA capabilities. Any further VA admissions will balloon criticism of the Administration to gale proportions - far overshadowing any benefit of VA caring for such patients.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: Rick Hutcheson, Staff Secretary

FROM : Neil Goldschmidt

SUBJECT: Significant Issues for the Week of June 2

Auto Industry - This morning I briefed the Economic Policy Group on the status of our review of the auto industry. We have a complete list of possible actions to assist the industry and a preliminary assessment of the potential effects and consequences of each. Now we begin the process of winnowing specific recommendations from this list. The effort is on schedule to submit recommendations to you before the end of this month.

The problems identified at your meeting with industry officials have continued to worsen. Consumer groups with whom we have met recognize the need for responding to the industry's problems but have pressed us not to retreat from safety and environmental regulations. I have been pleased to encounter a general recognition that our new relationship with the industry is a two-way street which can induce greater responsiveness from the industry to public health, safety, energy and environmental concerns in return for governmental assistance designed to help stabilize this most basic of industries.

Cuban Refugee Situation - The Coast Guard and Navy have been successful in halting the southbound flow of vessels to Cuba. Based on latest intelligence estimates, within a few more days nearly all of the approximately 15-36 U.S. vessels will be out of Mariel. As of midnight June 5, the exodus of refugees from Cuba to the United States had resulted in 1,224 search and rescue cases with 25 fatalities and the entrance of more than 106,000 Cubans seeking asylum. Cuba has apparently honored Panama's request not to load refugees on Panamanian flagships.

The involuntary callup of 900 selected Coast Guard reservists which you ordered has begun. Approximately 200 will report for duty by Monday. The reservists will help units which sent personnel to the Florida Straits cope with normal Coast Guard missions during the busy summer boating season.

*ok - call

Truck and Rail Reform Legislation - House consideration of both the truck and rail reform bills is being delayed seriously by the Speaker's decision to concentrate exclusively on the first concurrent budget resolution. We will lose the good momentum behind both bills if they are not passed before the July 4 Congressional recess. Your direct assistance may be required.

ConRail - Three separate events presage the emergence of ConRail as one of two major rail issues later this year or earlier next year. (The other issue is Administration policy toward the wave of recently announced rail mergers which will remake the rail map of the nation.) ConRail and the Administration have argued until now that no additional Federal funding for ConRail would be required in Fiscal Year 1981. This is now questionable in light of the drop in ConRail traffic resulting from the downturn of the economy. We will continue to monitor ConRail performance closely and hold off as long as possible on any decision about further funding for FY 1981. We have wanted to tie decisions about further funding to decisions about ConRail's structure and long-range future, and the logical time for this is the 1982 budget cycle.

Beyond the economy, two other events affect ConRail. Ed Jordan, CEO of ConRail, has announced his resignation as of the end of this year. Finding a replacement may be difficult. And, the Southern Railway and the Norfolk and Western have announced a merger which would siphon away significant ConRail traffic.

Congress has vested primary responsibility for ConRail planning in the independent U.S. Railway Association, but ConRail could emerge as a budget issue for the Administration before the end of this session of Congress, and if it does, we will face questions about the future of ConRail.

Televised Conference with Mayors - Last week I conducted a live 10-city conference via television hookup with mayors and local citizens. Reaction to the experiment has been very good in that it helps bridge the gulf between local communities and Washington agencies. It was particularly useful for joining local concerns and national policy. Comments and questions from most cities revealed concern about the long-range stability of Federal assistance for local transportation projects and decisions. The program highlighted the value of your decision to make a 10-year commitment of windfall profit tax funds for transportation.

Los Angeles Rail Transit - We have given $12 million to Los Angeles to prepare engineering studies of a rail rapid transit system. The result of these studies will set the stage for a final decision on Federal funding for construction of the 18.6 mile project. This is the first use of our new policy of not making decisions on construction of rail transit projects until firm cost estimates are presented from preliminary engineering studies. Other transit development projects in the region include dedication of freeway lanes for buses and carpools and a proposed automated downtown people mover. These developments are significant because Los Angeles has been the urban freeway and automobile capital of the nation.

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH Rick Hutcheson
Staff Secretary

SUBJECT: Weekly Report

PRICES. Prices received by farmers rose .9 percent in May, following 2 consecutive months of sharp declines. Higher prices for corn, broilers, cotton, soybeans, hogs, hay, oranges and potatoes more than offset lower prices for eggs, milk and cattle.

Prices paid by farmers rose .4 percent in May. Higher prices for feed, fertilizer, family living items and agricultural chemicals were partially offset by lower prices for feeder livestock. Compared with a year ago, prices received are down 8 percent while prices paid are up 10 percent.

CHINA. A senior Chinese foreign trade official has approached our agricultural counselor in Beijing suggesting interest in a long-term grain agreement. While the inquiry was informal, we will send a senior USDA official to Beijing the week of June 16 to explore the Chinese interests in this regard and then report to you on the possible value of such agreement when we have more details of what might be involved.

U.S. exporters report that China purchased 100,000 tons of wheat and that the destination of a previously reported sale of 160,000 tons of wheat was changed from unknown destinations to China, both for delivery in 1980/81. Wheat sales to China for 1980/81 shipment currently total 2.145 million tons.

The Canadian Wheat Board June 4 announced a sales contract for the shipment of 1.4 million tons of wheat to China for shipment August 1980 through January 1981. The new contract is the second one to be negotiated under the 3-year agreement with China announced on February 26, 1979.

RETENDERS. The CCC retendered 9.3 million bushels (252,500 metric tons) of wheat and 55,118 short tons (50,000 metric tons) of soybean meal on June 4, bringing the total quantity of wheat and soybean meal retendered to 77.3 million bushels (2.1 million metric tons) and 88,240 short tons (80,000 metric tons) respectively.

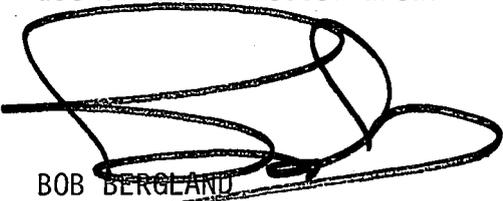

The CCC retendered 25.8 million bushels (656,489 tons) of corn in last night's tender, bringing the total quantity of corn retendered to 161.2 million bushels (4.1 million tons).

CROPS. Widespread heavy showers with some severe thunderstorm activity moved through North Dakota this week. Rainfall amounts ranged from 0.5 to 1.5 inches in central and eastern North Dakota. This moisture should significantly improve crop conditions. Heavy showers are currently being reported in western North Dakota.

The following table shows total costs of corn, wheat and soybeans for 1978-1980. Most of the cost increase reported for 1980 is chargeable to fuel, freight, and oil-based chemicals and fertilizers. The other big single increase is in interest charges on new debt.

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: CHARLES W. DUNCAN, JR.
JOHN C. SAWHILL
SUBJECT: Weekly Activity Report
Week of May 31 - June 6, 1980

1. Mandatory Oil Import Fee: The suspension of the mandatory oil import fee and customs duties will expire on July 1. Without action to extend this suspension, the fee (21 cents per barrel on crude oil and 63 cents per barrel on petroleum products) and the customs duties (ranging from 52.5 cents per barrel for gasoline and motor fuels to either 5.25 cents per barrel or 10.5 cents per barrel for crude oil and other petroleum products) will automatically be reinstated. The EPG has agreed with our recommendation to reimpose the customs duties on July 1, but suspend the fee for one month to study the issues involved. A memorandum recommending this action to you will be sent early next week.
2. Alaska Natural Gas Transportation System: On Tuesday, the producing companies and the pipeline sponsors agreed on a statement of intent regarding development of a financing plan for the Alaskan segment. We believe that this statement will satisfy the Canadian request for the clear U.S. support for the entire project which they need to authorize their pre-build portion.
3. Acid Rain Task Force: John Sawhill met with Douglas Costle on Tuesday to discuss the joint DOE/EPA Acid Rain Task Force.
4. Trips: On Monday I was in Cincinnati for a speech to the American Institute of Architects on building energy performance standards and in Wichita for a Town Meeting hosted by Congressman Glickman on energy issues. On Tuesday I was in Kansas City to lead another session with businessmen to encourage action on your transportation conservation outreach program and to attend a meeting with major producers of alcohol fuels. John Sawhill was in Toledo on Monday with Congressman Ashley discussing energy conservation with civic leaders and members of the financial community.
5. Other Matters: I will send you a separate report on other events occurring this week.

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

OFFICE OF THE
ADMINISTRATOR

SUBJECT: WEEKLY STATUS REPORT

On Wednesday, I met with Mayor Michael O'Laughlin and seven community leaders from Niagara Falls, New York, who flew to Washington to discuss the medical emergency you declared at Love Canal two weeks ago. Our purpose was to establish some rapport with the Love Canal residents by involving them in planning the health and environmental studies necessary to determine whether they can safely return to their homes.

The residents are not satisfied with temporary relocation. They want the government to buy their homes. We emphasized that the government legally cannot and will not purchase their homes, but pledged to use existing programs to help as best we can, such as by providing low interest mortgages for new homes.

New York State has complicated our position by advocating that we purchase the homes. To bolster its argument, the State legislature issued a report last week blaming part of the problem on negligent waste disposal by the Defense Department during the 1940's. Both the Department of Justice and the Department of Defense have reviewed the report and find it fundamentally flawed. The environmental studies now being undertaken by EPA should determine whether wastes of the type disposed of by the Department of Defense or its contractors are in the Canal.

We believe we are pursuing the best course of action until reliable studies are complete. In the interim, it is important to focus public attention on two steps your Administration has taken to prevent future tragedies such as Love Canal:

- o regulations issued by EPA this year have begun to bring the generation, transport, and disposal of hazardous wastes under control; and
- o superfund legislation proposed by you last June will allow us to promptly assist people endangered by hazardous waste dumps.

As you may know, Senator Kennedy held hearings this morning on the hazardous waste problem. He was critical of the government's apparent inability to respond more quickly and forcefully to the needs of the victims. He acknowledged the urgent need for a Superfund bill.

SUBJECT: Memorandum of Understanding Concerning Law Enforcement and Peace-keeping Responsibilities for Detainees at Military Installations

Attached for your information are copies of:

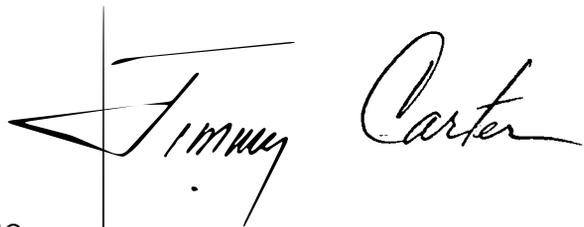

a) Presidential Directive to the Secretary of Defense,
dated June 5, 1980;

b) Memorandum of Understanding Concerning Law Enforcement and Peace-keeping Responsibilities for Detainees at Military Installations, dated June 4, 1980;

c) Memorandum for the President from the Attorney General, dated June 5, 1980.

I have directed the Attorney General to coordinate the use of federal law enforcement officers, including representatives of the U.S. Park Police and Federal Protective Service, for the maintenance of peace at military installations housing Cuban refugees. In order to ensure effective coordination of all phases of peace-keeping and law enforcement, continuous communications at both the field and headquarters level should be maintained by the Park Police and Federal Protective Service with the Department of Justice. Before U.S. Park Police and Federal Protective Service officers assume the law enforcement functions set out in the Memorandum of Understanding, the Department of Justice and Federal Emergency Management Agency should be consulted and should concur that the functions be undertaken. Command and control of the actual operations of the U.S. Park Police and the Federal Protective Service will remain within your respective agencies.

I direct you to ensure that adequate personnel and support for those police forces are devoted to this assignment.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

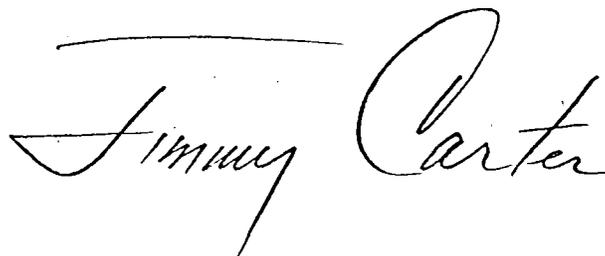

SUBJECT: Memorandum of Understanding Concerning Law Enforcement and Peace-Keeping Responsibilities for Detainees at Military Installations

I have reviewed the Memorandum of Understanding executed by the Department of Defense, the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the Department of Justice, dated June 4, 1980, which establishes responsibility for law enforcement and peace-keeping for Cuban detainees at military installations.

I approve of the division of responsibilities between the Department of Defense, the Department of Justice and the Federal Emergency Management Agency, as specified in the Memorandum of Understanding. I hereby direct you to ensure that the Department of Defense fulfills the responsibilities assigned to it. By copies of this memorandum, I am also directing the Attorney General and the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency to fulfill the respective responsibilities assigned to them.

The Attorney General has advised me that the Department of Defense may lawfully perform the responsibilities it assumes under the Memorandum of Understanding. A copy of the Attorney General's advice to this effect is attached.

I have directed Jack Watson to act for me in coordinating the performance of the respective responsibilities assumed by the three agencies, and I request that you advise him promptly of any problems that may arise.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING
CONCERNING LAW ENFORCEMENT AND PEACEKEEPING RESPONSIBILITIES
FOR DETAINEES AT MILITARY INSTALLATIONS

The Department of Defense (DOD), the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) have reached the following agreement. Those agencies intend hereby to delineate and clarify respective responsibilities of all involved agencies for peacekeeping, law enforcement and related activities concerning the Cuban detainees* at military installations. Consistent with this agreement, the responsible military commander and the FEMA Officer-in-Charge, or other proper on-scene authorities, may establish and implement additional security procedures as necessary.

The primary responsibility for peacekeeping, law enforcement, and related activities concerning the Cuban detainees rests with civilian law enforcement authorities. When civilian law enforcement officers are not available in adequate numbers to carry out this responsibility at a military installation, the military commander will exercise his authority to maintain order on the military installation and take reasonable steps to provide for the safety of persons and facilities thereon.

Such temporary emergency measures by the military, however, do not constitute an exercise of the law enforcement authority of the Immigration and Naturalization Service or any other Federal agencies regarding laws for which they have been assigned jurisdiction by statute or otherwise.

I

Because of the present unavailability at certain locations of sufficient civilian law enforcement officers of the Federal Government, the following duties will be performed at those locations by personnel responsible to the Department of Defense, through its executive agent, the Department of Army, and the responsible military commander at each location. Current efforts to provide civilian law enforcement officers at the earliest possible time shall be continued. As sufficient police officers become available from a federal civilian law enforcement agency, that agency, with DOJ and FEMA concurrence, will deploy its force and assume responsibility from military police at a base designated by FEMA and DOJ for preventive patrols as described in (1) below and related law enforcement efforts. This responsibility should be assumed as soon as feasible and at as many of the bases as possible. If the number of bases should be reduced enough for the civilian law enforcement agency performing preventive patrol at a base to also maintain the perimeter as set forth in (2) a. below, it shall do so. Otherwise, maintenance of the perimeter will remain a military responsibility. In any event, responsibility for providing a response force in case of riot or other such large scale disorder will be with the military. In all cases, however, nothing contained herein shall affect the authority and responsibility of the military commander to assure the orderly functioning of the military base under his control.

*Persons entering United States territory without visas or other authority who have not been admitted by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) are subject to detention under the Immigration and Naturalization Act, pending completion of inspection and processing to determine eligibility for admission.

(1) Preventive Patrols

Adequate police presence and visual surveillance shall be maintained at all times in the area in which the detainees are located (detainee enclave) on the installation through such patrols and stationary posts as may be necessary. The purpose of such patrols shall be to deter, detect and prevent disorder, criminal offenses, and any serious harm from any cause to the Cuban detainee(s), as well as to protect other personnel, buildings, and equipment.

(2) Securing the Perimeter

a. A perimeter shall be established around the detainee enclave on the installation. This perimeter shall be clearly marked and posted with signs in English and Spanish prohibiting Cuban detainees from unauthorized departure from the detainee enclave. Military personnel shall maintain this perimeter and shall be stationed along this perimeter and at any gates or openings to deter, detect and make reasonable efforts to prevent unauthorized departures. They shall take reasonable action to prevent unauthorized passage outside the perimeter, using oral warnings and, if those fail, reasonable, but wholly non-lethal measures to deter detainees from attempting to cross the perimeter. Use of physical barriers is also permissible at the option of the military commander. Military personnel shall not leave the installation to pursue or apprehend detainees.

b. Detainee(s) found on the installation outside the detainee enclave shall be returned under escort to the enclave and their unauthorized departure shall be reported to FEMA, the United States Marshals, and the representative from the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Similarly, any detainee(s) returned to the installation by civilian authorities or otherwise shall be escorted back to their enclave and similarly reported.

(3) Response Force

A reserve force of military or security (air) police shall be maintained at all times with sufficient capacity to respond promptly (1) should large scale disturbances occur on the installation which are beyond the capacity of the responsible law enforcement agencies, (2) in the event that federal officers become unable to perform their law enforcement functions on the installation, or (3) in the event the safety of federal officers on the installation becomes threatened by detainees.

II

In every case, and without regard to whether law enforcement functions at a particular installation are being discharged primarily by military or by civilian officials, the responsibilities of FEMA and civilian law enforcement agencies shall include the following:

(1) Immediate Response for Arrests

A lead civilian law enforcement agency shall be designated by FEMA and DOJ at each installation. That agency shall be prepared to react immediately to calls from military personnel or civilian law enforcement personnel in connection with circumstances requiring detainee(s) to be arrested, searches to be conducted, investigations to be undertaken or other similar law enforcement activities to be conducted. The lead agency may be assisted in any or all of the above activities by other agencies, although nothing stated herein shall alter normal division of jurisdiction for enforcement of specific statutes by various agencies. Accordingly, the lead agency shall transfer responsibility for further response to the particular Federal agency with jurisdiction for the statutory violation or circumstance.

(2) Advice

The lead agency shall also provide advice to FEMA representatives and military authorities with respect to law enforcement matters. In addition, the lead agency shall regularly assess the need for police presence within the enclave. The FEMA Officer-in-Charge, the responsible military commander, and the Officer-in-Charge of the lead law enforcement agency at each installation shall confer with regard to the type and level of law enforcement presence appropriate for the circumstances which obtain at that installation at the particular time in question. However, the final decision on the deployment of military personnel, both on the perimeter and within the enclosed area, must rest solely with the military commander or his designee.

(3) Custody of Persons Detained or Arrested

The United States Marshals Service (USMS) shall be responsible for custody of all arrested persons and their safe and secure transport to stockade, segregated detention, or jail facilities.

(4) Guarding Persons in Punitive Detention

In consultation with FEMA, one of the civilian law enforcement agencies shall be assigned responsibility for guarding detainees at the stockade or segregated detention facility.

Whenever appropriate, the senior INS official present and the base commander may issue regulations which may expressly prohibit Cuban detainee(s) from departing from the detainee enclave without authority. The regulations shall be issued in both Spanish and English and posted conspicuously at reasonable intervals along the perimeter. The regulations may contain a section providing sanctions and advising that violators may be subject to segregation and removal to a separate detention facility and to delay in completion of the inspection and processing procedure until such procedures have been completed for all other detainee(s) at the camp.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

Re: Use of Military Personnel to Maintain Order
Among Cuban Detainees on Military Bases

The Department of Defense, the Federal Emergency Management Agency and my Department have entered into a Memorandum of Understanding, dated June 4, 1980, providing for the use of military personnel in the performance of certain peace-keeping, law enforcement, and related responsibilities concerning Cuban detainees located on military bases. Generally, military personnel are to be used for securing the perimeter of enclaves established within military bases to contain the detainees, for the conduct of preventive patrols within these enclaves, and for responding to any large scale disturbances that may occur at any place on the bases.

I have reviewed the Memorandum of Understanding and have concluded, based upon the legal analysis set forth in the attached opinion of the Office of Legal Counsel to me of May 29, 1980, with which I concur, that military personnel are not prohibited by the Posse Comitatus Act, 18 U.S.C. § 1385, from performing any of the functions contemplated in that Memorandum of Understanding. Specifically, I conclude that military personnel may lawfully conduct preventive patrols within the enclaves established on military installations to contain the Cuban detainees, secure the perimeters of those enclaves through the use of reasonable force to prevent unauthorized departure, and control any large scale disturbances that may occur on the military bases.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
FROM: GEORGE EADS
SUBJECT: RETAIL SALES IN MAY

THIS AFTERNOON AT 3:30 P.M., THE CENSUS BUREAU WILL RELEASE PRELIMINARY FIGURES ON RETAIL SALES IN MAY AND REVISED FIGURES FOR RETAIL SALES IN MARCH AND APRIL.

THE APRIL FIGURE WAS REVISED DOWNWARD SUBSTANTIALLY AND THE MARCH FIGURE UP SLIGHTLY. AFTER THESE REVISIONS, TOTAL SALES IN APRIL FELL BY 2.3 PERCENT (VS. THE 1.2 PERCENT PREVIOUSLY REPORTED) FOLLOWING A DECLINE OF 1.9 PERCENT IN MARCH. TOTAL RETAIL SALES IN MAY FELL 1.5 PERCENT FURTHER.

THE FACT THAT AUTO SALES CONTINUED TO DECLINE IN MAY IS NOT NEWS; THE IMPORTANT FIGURES TO FOCUS ON ARE THE NON-AUTO SALES. THE APRIL NON-AUTO FIGURE WAS REVISED DOWNWARD SUBSTANTIALLY. THIS PRODUCES A SIGNIFICANT CHANGE IN THE PATTERN REPORTED LAST MONTH. PRELIMINARY FIGURES HAD SHOWN NON-AUTO SALES INCREASING BY 0.6 PERCENT IN APRIL. AFTER THE REVISIONS, SALES OUTSIDE AUTOS FELL BY 0.8 PERCENT IN APRIL. PRELIMINARY FIGURES FOR MAY SHOW NON-AUTO SALES FALLING BY ANOTHER 0.5 PERCENT.

ADJUSTED FOR INFLATION, RETAIL SALES OUTSIDE OF AUTOS FELL ABOUT 1-1/4 PERCENT IN APRIL AND BY ANOTHER 1 PERCENT IN MAY.

THESE FIGURES CONFIRM THAT THE ECONOMY FELL SHARPLY IN APRIL AND IS CONTINUING TO SLIDE DOWNWARD, ALTHOUGH NOT AT A RADICAL PACE.

ADMINISTRATIVELY CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

FROM: ANNE WEXLER AW

SUBJECT: Activities Report -- Week Ending June 6, 1980

1. Fair Housing

We initiated activities to increase Administration visibility and constituent support for the Fair Housing legislation, including a conference call by the Vice President and Louis Martin with civil rights leaders to activate their networks in key Congressional districts; a Hill press briefing by Lloyd Cutler and Moon Landrieu to emphasize the importance of the issue; a meeting of the Vice President and key undecided House members next week; the usual organizational meetings and follow-up with Hill lobbyists; Louis Martin TV interviews in districts of undecided Congressmen with high black populations; and feeds of your fair housing remarks to black radio stations. I hope that you will mention this legislation where appropriate, at the black caucus meetings in Miami and Seattle; as another example of your strong emphasis for equal justice.

2. Miscellaneous

- We continue to work with outside groups on registration and the youth employment initiatives. Your intervention with the Senate Subcommittees as recommended by Stu and Frank will be important to get the youth employment legislation moving in the Senate.
- We will conduct pre-announcement briefings on Monday for groups interested in or affected by the Tuesday announcement of limits on Federal hospital spending where there is an excess of rooms. We are playing this as an important anti-inflation effort.

Electrostatic Copy Made
for Preservation Purposes

- With Jack and Stu's staffs we have organized an Administration-wide effort for the Conference of Mayors. Administration officials attending have been briefed and scheduled. New materials on your urban achievements, the budget, etc. will be distributed.
- We met with the leaders of a group of 1,200 who were in Washington concerned about your recisions in the Head Start follow-through program. After learning that the Senate might remove the entire follow-through program, they now support our efforts to keep program reductions from going deeper than our recision proposals.
- With the Vice President and Bill Miller, we have organized the first of a series of lunches with corporate leaders to discuss productivity and investment, the third year of the voluntary guidelines program and long-term economic issues. These will be more detailed than, but a good follow-up to, your residence lunches.

SUBJECT:

INFLATION ACTIVITIES --- WEEK OF JUNE 2, 1980

Attached for your information are this week's summary of activities and Inflation Report.

SUMMARY OF ANTI-INFLATION ACTIVITIES

Week of June 2, 1980

Congress

Budget Resolution - The Chairmen of the House and Senate Budget Committees have met this week in discussion with the President and other Administration officials. The Conference Committee has not yet resumed its meetings because differences exist over the budget authority for the defense category.

Oil Import Fee - The President vetoed the temporary debt limit extension with its amendment to repeal the oil import fee. The Congress overrode the veto on Thursday and Friday, thereby repealing the gasoline conservation fee.

Outreach

Anti-inflation meetings were included in most White House briefings - 8 briefings, covering approximately 400 people, with 3 Presidential participation.

Continuing Actions

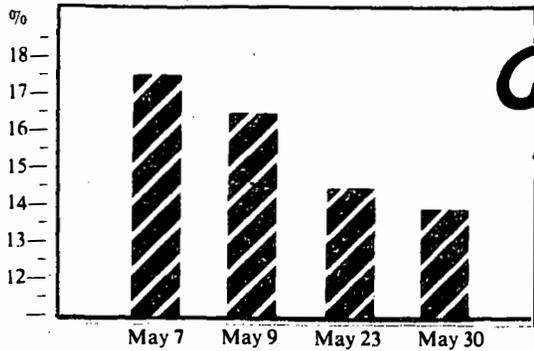

Compliance Actions - The Council on Wage and Price Stability announced that Liberty House, a major West Coast department store chain, has agreed to hold its percentage gross margin below the last two quarters of the current program year in order to remain in compliance with the anti-inflation standards.

Meetings - The President met on Tuesday, June 3, with representatives of the food processing industry. He and Esther Peterson asked them to continue to moderate their price increases as they have thus far this year.

The President also dropped by a Fred Kahn meeting with representatives of the heavy machinery industry on Thursday, June 5. This was the eighth in a series of consultation/jawboning sessions with basic industries.

Crude Oil Imports Drop to Lowest Weekly Level in 3 Years; Gasoline Consumption Down 8.2%

U.S. crude oil imports dropped during the week ending May 23 to an average 4.7 million barrels a day—the lowest weekly level in three years.

In addition, during the first 143 days of this year, Americans have cut gasoline consumption by 8.2% from last year.

During the four weeks ending May 23, crude oil imports were 17.2% below what they were during the same period last year, standing at a little over five million barrels a day.

This year (through May 23), crude oil imports are down 9.8%, averaging 5.6 million barrels a day.

Other data from the Department of Energy:

—The estimated weighted-average international price of oil went up to $31.28 a barrel as of May 26. That is $1.53 higher than two weeks ago—a rise of 5.3%.

—For the U.S. alone, the average import price per barrel as of May 26 had risen to $32.65, from $32.52 a week ago.

—Except for naphtha-jet fuel, all other categories of petroleum products supplied

(which can be translated roughly to products consumed) decreased over the first 143 days of this year compared to the same period last year:

- Kerosene decreased 10%,
- Distillate fuel oil decreased 15%,
- Kerosene-jet fuel decreased 1.5%,
- Residual fuel oil decreased 11.6%,
- All other oils decreased 4.1%.

In addition, crude oil stocks remain 20.3% higher than last year at 381.6 million barrels. At current crude oil import levels, that amounts to 72 days' imports.

Gasoline stocks are 15.5% higher at 264.8 million barrels or 39 days' imports. In the area of coal conversion, electric utilities in 1979 used 6.6% less petroleum and 11.5% more coal.

In February of this year, electric utilities used 25.5% less petroleum than they did in February last year. In the same period, coal consumption rose 13.4% and natural gas consumption by these utilities increased by 16.2%.

House Overrides President's Veto of Gas Fee Measure

The President has vetoed a measure passed by the Congress to block imposition of the gasoline conservation fee. The House today voted to override that veto; the Senate also is expected to override the veto.

"As you will recall, that carefully conceived program was worked out in unusually close and detailed cooperation with the Congress," the President said in his veto message. "Both the Congressional leaders and I decided then, and I still maintain and am convinced, that a conservation fee on imported oil is important for the energy security, for the economic security, and for the national security of the United States.

"...the oil import conservation fee is good public policy, and it is good common sense. That was true when we agreed upon it. It is if anything even more true today, as we see the early tangible, measurable signs of successes in both our energy and inflation policies," he said.

The President imposed the fee of $4.62 per barrel of imported crude oil to reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil. The fee would cut oil imports by 100,000 barrels a day in one year and by 250,000 barrels a day in three to four years.

High payments for imported oil contribute to the inflation problem, account for increases in the U.S. trade deficit, and weaken the economy.

Adding 10¢ a gallon, the fee's burden was designed to fall entirely on gasoline, which promises the best conservation potential and the least economic disruption.

In his veto message, the President said the fee is an integral part of energy, economic, and foreign policy goals:

• "Over 40% of all the oil consumed in this country is imported. Unless we take this kind of courageous action, we will remain dangerously vulnerable to severe economic disruptions from terrorism, accident, embargo, war, or political strategy."

• "The U.S. is a leader in trying to forge a joint program, with our allies, to secure greater energy independence. But we use about half of all the oil consumed in the Western industrial nations, and a larger proportion of gasoline than anywhere else in the world. The oil import

Holding the Line on Inflation...

A ridesharing workshop was held Tuesday in Atlanta as part of the National Energy Conservation Program aimed at reducing gasoline consumption in the nation and the demand for oil imports.

The workshop was the fifth in a series. Others have been held in Baltimore, Denver, Portland, and Chicago.

The President announced the initiative at the end of April to encourage business, trade and service groups, and government to get at least 20% of their employees to rideshare or use public transit. The Administration also wants these organizations to inform employees and the general public about no- or low-cost energy conservation methods, such as efficient route planning, proper car maintenance, and more economic driving habits. It hopes to improve fuel economy by 10% to 20% through better driving techniques.

Attending the workshop were representatives from 60 State and local government entities which are helping to set up or are operating ridesharing programs. They were instructed in up-to-date techniques in marketing, data processing, and other topics.

Another 25 businesses or government entities this week agreed to participate in the President's energy conservation initiative, bringing the total number of participants to more than 160.

The new groups are listed together with the number of employees they represent when available:

- The Pacesetter Corporation, Omaha, NE
- Wien Air Alaska, Inc.
- General Mills, Inc. (62,000)
- Community Services Administration, Region VII, Kansas City, MO
- Monsanto Company (61,500)
- Exxon Corporation (126,000)
- Howard County, MD
- General Foods Corporation (48,000)
- Pennsylvania Transportation Committee, Harrisburg, PA

Food Processors Urged to Keep Price Increases Down

President Carter this week urged the nation's leading food processors to continue to hold down their price increases to help moderate an expected increase in retail food prices later this year.

Thirty-nine food processing executives at a White House meeting were asked to continue to keep their price increases in line with increases in food and marketing costs to them, as they have in the past year.

During the last year, food prices have remained relatively stable, but they are expected to rise later this year. One major reason for this week's meeting was to underscore the importance of assuring that increases in the farm-to-retail spread—the amount processors and retailers add to food prices—reflect only legitimate cost increases.

During the past 12 months, the retail price for all food increased 7.2%. The retail price of food for consumption at home rose 5.9%. (During the same period, the Consumer Price Index rose 14.7%.)

There are two main reasons for the recent relative stability:

—The price of food at the farm is down sharply. During the past year, the farm value of the Department of Agriculture market basket (which includes domestically produced farm foods) is down by 8.7%.

—Increases in the farm-to-retail spread accurately have reflected rises in marketing costs for processors and retailers. During the last year, that spread for USDA market basket items went up 13.7%—about the same as the 14.7% increase in marketing costs.

Participants in the meeting discussed with Administration officials methods of slowing the increase in key market cost components such as transportation, energy, advertising, promotion, and packaging.

The President also met today with 17 representatives from the construction, electrical, and oil field machinery and equipment industry.

The purpose of the meeting was to encourage the industry to hold down prices, to emphasize the importance of bringing down the underlying inflation rate in the months ahead, and to explore ways the Administration and the industry can work together to reduce inflationary pressures and to improve the industry's economic outlook.

The machinery industry meeting was the eighth in a series which the President is conducting to urge the nation's basic industries to hold down price increases and to work with the Administration on ways to cut costs.

Council, DOE Standards Strike Balance, Study Says

The Council on Wage and Price Stability says that differences between its petroleum-refinery price standards and regulations administered by the Department of Energy strike a reasonable balance between the different goals sought by the two organizations.

The Council said in a study on the matter, "The Council and DOE constraints on petroleum refiners are different because of different...programmatic objectives—long-term energy needs in the case of the DOE and shorter-term anti-inflation objectives for the Council."

The Council said refiners can comply with both sets of constraints.

The Council wants petroleum refiners to keep their gross margins (the difference between the cost of petroleum to them and the price for which they sell it) within the anti-inflation standards.

The study said that while many analysts believe the Council's standards may be more stringent than the DOE's, there "are no conflicts between the Council and DOE regulations sufficient to justify modifications of one or the other at the present time. Nevertheless, we intend to work with DOE in continuing to examine the effects of both sets of standards on the refining industry, and in designing the Council standards for the third program year."

The Senate has passed the first reauthorization measure for the Council on Wage and Price Stability. In doing so, it defeated an effort to take away the Council's authority to deny Federal contracts of $5 million or more to companies violating the pay and price standards.

However, the Senate rejected the Administration's proposal to expand the Council's staff to handle wider monitoring of prices and profits. The President had requested a tripling of the Council staff to broaden monitoring of firms' compliance.

The Senate also voted to ease the price standard by requiring the Council to adopt a lower estimate of productivity used in calculating allowable price increases under that standard.

The House is considering the Council's reauthorization.

Northwestern University economics professor Morton Kamien has been appointed to the Price Advisory Committee.

The Committee advises the Council on Wage and Price Stability on its voluntary price standards and in the development of policies to encourage anti-inflationary price behavior.

Kamien replaces John Sheahan, who has resigned. In December, 1979, the President appointed to the Committee Sheahan; Robert Atwood, a partner at Deloitte Haskins & Sells; Barbara Bergmann, University of Maryland economics professor; Carol Schwartz Greenwald, Harvard Business School visiting associate professor; Stanley Ruttenberg, president of Ruttenberg, Friedman, Kilgallon, Gutchess & Associates; and Albert Sommers, chairman of The Conference Board.

The National Consumer Buying Alert is published each month by the Office of Esther Peterson, Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs. The Alert gives easy-to-understand purchasing advice and tips based on government forecasts on price and supply conditions in the areas of food, energy, housing, and health care.

Bulk copies are available from Mrs. Peterson's office at (202) 456-6534. Those wishing bulk copies should phone in orders by mid-month for the following month's Alert. Individual free copies are available by writing Esther Peterson, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Composite Index of Leading Indicators Takes Drop in April

The Composite Index of Leading Indicators fell 4.8% in April, the largest one-month drop ever.

This statistic verified what Administration spokesmen had said: the decline in April was steeper than originally expected. However, interest rates also have been falling more rapidly than at any other time in our history. In addition, the Consumer Price Index grew in April by .9%, the smallest increase since January, 1979, and the Administration expects to see a further slowdown in the inflation rate later this year.

Administration economists say falling interest rates and declining inflation will help to moderate the recession and lead to economic recovery.

fee is a symbol of our own willingness to take the painful steps needed to conserve oil. If we are to lead, we must act like a leader."

"To the extent that we can convince foreign nations, both the oil producers and consumers, that we mean business in conserving energy and reducing our oil imports, to that extent they will join us in reducing world demand, and in maintaining oil production."

The President said more than 2 points of the Consumer Price Index increase in 1979 can be attributed directly to OPEC price increases. "As long as nearly one out of two gallons of gasoline we consume comes from abroad, this inflationary 'tax' levied by OPEC will continue. This year we will pay $90 billion for foreign oil—$400 for each person in the U.S."

FROM: LOUIS MARTIN

SUBJECT: PHOTO OPPORTUNITY WITH ELIZABETH ALEXANDER
THE OVAL OFFICE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1980
12:15 P.M.

I. PURPOSE

This is a courtesy visit with Elizabeth Alexander, representative to the International Azalea Festival and princess to the royal court; and daughter of Clifford L. Alexander, Secretary of the Army.

II. BACKGROUND, PARTICIPANTS AND PRESS

A. Background: The International Azalea Festival, now in its 27th year, is sponsored by the City of Norfolk and the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce. It includes a week long series of sporting events, music, art, and social activities.

The Azalea Festival is an effort to salute the military community of the Virginia Tidewater area, particularly the NATO community, and promote the City of Norfolk. Volunteers from every segment of the community participate on various committees and arrange various events.

There are fifteen princesses (age 17-25) representing each of the NATO nations. Each year a different NATO member country is "the most honored nation." This year, Luxembourg held the title and was represented by the Azalea Queen.

Elizabeth Alexander of Washington, D. C., is the United States representative in the court of Queen Azalea XXVII. As a princess of the royal court, she participated actively in the festival from April 24-27, 1980.

Miss Alexander is 17 years old and attends Sidwell Friends School in Washington. She was born in New York, New York. Her parents are Clifford L. Alexander, Jr., Secretary of the Army, and Adele L. Alexander, Special Events Director of the Capital Museum. Miss Alexander will enter Yale College in the fall of 1980. She dances professionally with the St. Mark's Dance Company on Capitol Hill and was one of seven District of Columbia award winners of the 1980 National Achievement Scholarship Program for outstanding Negro students.

BRIEF MEETING AND PHOTOGRAPH WITH THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF FARMER COOPERATIVES

Wednesday, June 11, 1980
12:25 p.m. (3 minutes)
The Cabinet Room

FROM: ANNE WEXLER AW

I. PURPOSE

To greet and have your photograph taken with the Board of Directors of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

II. BACKGROUND, PARTICIPANTS AND PRESS PLAN

Background: American farmers currently own and control nearly 7,500 local marketing and supply cooperatives. They are located in all 50 states with a combined membership of over 2.5 million farmers and rural residents. USDA estimates that five out of every six American farmers belong to one or more cooperative farming operations; making available on a non-profit basis those services that most farmers cannot afford as individuals.

The National Council of Farmer Cooperatives (NCFC) is the nationwide association of these farmer-owned cooperatives, which is now in its 52nd year. They represent the farmer cooperatives to the three branches of the Federal government, working closely on broad national issues that impact on agricultural business operations.

The National Council is governed by a member-elect Board of Directors. The current NCFC Board of Directors meeting with you today is comprised of agricultural leaders from 28 states which represent a diverse range of agricultural operations. During these Board members' two days in Washington, they will be formulating policy for the NCFC and receiving top-level briefings from both the Administration and the Congress. They will have just met at the State Department before coming to the White House.

Participants: See attached list.

Press Plan: White House photographer.

III. SCENARIO

The group will be assembled in the Cabinet Room as you enter. There will be no microphone, and your remarks should be informal as you greet the top officers of the Association.

Electrostatic Copy Made

IV. TALKING POINTS

1. You will be introduced to the following top officers of the NCFC:

Ronald N. Goddard, Chairman of the Board
Ralph Hofstad, Vice Chairman of the Board
Robert L. Gibson, Vice Chairman of the Board
Kenneth D. Naden, President

2. As you talk to these Board members, you might want to mention the following:

- I hope your discussions about the implications of trade policy and trade opportunities for American agriculture at the State Department went well.
- I have a deep commitment of support for the cooperatives and your work in agriculture. I believe in them, and your role in helping our farmers have a better stake in determining their own economic well-being.
- We share many challenges together, in expanding our foreign agricultural trade in the face of the recent soviet aggression, in meeting the energy needs of farmers and the food and fiber industry, and in rebuilding our nation's rural transportation system to bring food and fiber to the marketplace.
- Our nation has a bright future ahead, and much of the credit goes to the strength and viability of our agriculture.

I. PRESS PLAN

White House Photographer.

II. PARTICIPANTS

See attached list.

III. INTRODUCTION

In your opening remarks you should mention three items:

1. Secretary Muskie's activities in the Middle East saying that you know Muskie will keep the Leadership informed.
2. Welcome Senator Cranston back after his absence campaigning in California. (You could again mention privately your sorrow at the death of his son Robin.)
3. Tell the Leadership that you have asked Lloyd Cutler and me to brief the Leadership and coordinate with them concerning the July 30 event for the Olympic team.

IV. AGENDA

A. NICARAGUA

Majority Leader Wright has just returned from his four day trip to Nicaragua. (He was accompanied by Bill Alexander, Steve Neal, and Kent Hance.)

Before he left, Wright was key in defeating the Bauman amendment which would have cut economic assistance to Nicaragua. We won 243-144 because of Wright's eloquent statement imploring the House not to give up on Nicaragua now and citing the fact that you had asked him to go to Nicaragua to create closer friendship and a better working relationship.

Electrostatic Copy Made
for Preservation Purposes

You should thank him for his help on the vote and for undertaking this mission, and ask him to report briefly. (Wright may ask you for a meeting so that the entire delegation could report to you on the trip.)

You should also thank the Speaker for his help in defeating the Bauman amendment. O'Neill took the Floor for the first time in 28 years on a foreign aid bill. He compared the situation in Nicaragua to that of Portugal after Salazar when U.S. assistance was instrumental in helping to create a democracy.

B. BUDGET

The Budget conferees met Tuesday, but made no decisions. You should just encourage them to act with all deliberate speed citing the other important business that is pending completion of the budget (trucking deregulation, the youth bill, authorizations, appropriations, supplementals, etc.) You should ask the Speaker if there is anything you can do to help the process along.

C. EMB AND THE SYNTHETIC FUELS CORPORATION

You should tell the Leadership that you are still planning on having the Energy Mobilization Board and Synthetic Fuels bills at the White House for signature by July 4. You should ask them if they believe there will be any slippage in that deadline.

D. RATIONING

You should announce to the Leadership that you plan to submit the gasoline rationing plan to Congress on Thursday. One reason for doing so at this time is that Thursday is the last day the plan can be submitted and still allow for 30 calendar days of continuous legislative session before the Democratic Convention.

As you know, the rationing plan is subject to a two House veto provision. If either or both Houses fail to act within the designated time the plan is automatically approved. However, if a Joint Resolution of Disapproval is passed by both Houses you may veto that Resolution (subject to a 2/3 override by both Houses). The plan is likely to be approved. The major Congressional concern is that the plan is unworkable. You should emphasize that the plan is intended to be implemented only in the event of a severe supply interruption. Any such shortfall will itself result in inequities. However, our plan was designed within the framework of the law passed by Congress; it was based on numerous discussions with Members; and it is the fairest possible design for implementation of rationing.

E. UTILITY OIL BACKOUT

Markup of the Utility Oil Backout bill may be completed by the Senate Energy Committee today. Yesterday the Committee approved the provisions of the staff draft of Phase I including a smaller list of plants mandated for conversion, and a compromise on the Fuel Use Act prohibition on burning gas beyond 1990.

Senator Tsongas introduced a clean air amendment. We have maintained that the issue should be dealt with in separate legislation. The amendment would be very costly, would deter conversions, and would sink the bill. With the amendment in the bill, the Environment and Public Works Committee could ask for a joint referral. We could face a similar obstacle in the House. Neither the utilities nor coal companies would support the bill with the Tsongas amendment attached.

The Tsongas amendment failed 8-8. However, Senator Hatfield may ask to bring it up again. It must be defeated.

Senator Byrd may try to blame us for the close vote. He had asked Democrats to link arms to stop similar Republican amendments. We are actively working the Democrats who voted with Tsongas to turn them around: Bumpers, Durkin, Matsunaga, Bradley and Melcher. We have labor, utilities and coal working them as well. We have been successful with Matsunaga and possibly Bumpers.

F. FAIR HOUSING

Will be taken up by the House early today. The Vice President picked up four firm votes in a meeting with eight House Members on Tuesday. John Brademas was the only Member of the Leadership who attended -- he went away with renewed enthusiasm.

Despite the efforts of outside groups and the Administration the count continues to be soft:

Against Sensenbrenner	130
Leaning against Sensenbrenner	78
Undecided	51
Leaning for Sensenbrenner	46
For Sensenbrenner	129

You should make a strong appeal to the House Leadership for their help. The Speaker and Brademas are with us on this issue. Rostenkowski has been inclined in our direction but needs encouragement. Foley and Wright are undecided.

In encouraging them to help you might mention that a number of the Chairs of Standing Committees continue to be undecided -- including Bizz Johnson, Harley Staggers, Al Ullman, and Mel Price. We also face special problems in some of the Leadership Members' state delegations.

Because Foley and Wright are sensitive about being forced to face this issue at this time I suggest you direct your comments to the Leadership as a group. They should know that we've worked hard and that the success or failure of this initiative is now in their hands.

Your appeal should be to the sense of fairness and concern which is a part of the Democratic party tradition.

This legislation is needed. HUD estimates that more than 2 million cases of housing discrimination occur each year. A recent nation-wide survey commissioned by HUD found that blacks seeking a rental unit have an 85 percent chance of encountering at least one instance of discrimination. Blacks trying to buy a house will encounter some type of discrimination 50 percent of the time. Mexican-Americans are subject to a 65 percent chance of encountering discrimination when they seek housing.

For all of this we presently have no effective means of enforcing non-discrimination. Under present law only the financially capable victims of housing discrimination have any recourse.

You should acknowledge that the timing in this election year is difficult and that you are aware of the powerful special interest group which has arranged its forces against this bill.

Despite the unpleasantness of the situation House Democrats should be prevailed upon to cast their votes against continued discrimination. In so doing they will be making real a promise tendered twelve years ago.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

JACK WATSON Jack
ARNIE MILLER HF

SUBJECT: Director, National Ocean Survey (NOS) - PAS

We join Secretary Klutznick in recommending the appointment of Rear Admiral Herbert R. Lippold, Jr. to be the Director of the National Ocean Survey. NOS is a principal component of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) which was established in the Department of Commerce on October 3, 1970. The basic mission of NOS is to provide charts and related information for the safe navigation of marine and air commerce and to provide other earth and ocean sciences data for protection of life and property to meet engineering, scientific, defense, commercial and industrial needs.

Traditionally, the position of Director of NOS has gone to a member of the NOAA Corps. Admiral Lippold has served in the Corps for 30 years, during which time he has conducted research and surveying on land and sea in the Atlantic, Pacific and Arctic Oceans and in most of the United States, Alaska and Hawaii. His career has included nine years of sea duty on eight vessels, three of which he commanded. Admiral Lippold, (54), was graduated from New England College with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1949 and from the University of New Hampshire with a Bachelor of Civil Engineering in 1950. He spent two years in the Army Air Corps. Admiral Lippold is currently serving as the Acting Director of NOS.

RECOMMENDATION:

Nominate Rear Admiral Herbert R. Lippold, Jr., of New Hampshire, to be Director of the National Ocean Survey of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

Q

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

JACK WATSON JW

ARNIE MILLER AM

SUBJECT:

National Institute for Building Sciences Board of Directors

The National Institute of Building Sciences was created in 1974 by Congress as an independent, non-profit, non-governmental organization to research, develop, and adopt performance criteria for building components.

The Institute is comprised of twenty-one members appointed by you and confirmed by the Senate. Members serve three-year terms and represent various segments of the building community, construction labor organizations, safety engineers, and state and local officials. There are presently seven vacancies on the Board of Directors.

We recommend the following names for appointment to the Board.

Ralph Ball (Oklahoma): Chairman of the Board and CEO, HTB, Inc., a major architectural firm; corporate member, American Institute of Architects; civic leader. Recommended by Rep. Tom Steed and Chuck Parrish.

Robert Georgine (District of Columbia): President, Building and Construction Trades Department, AFL-CIO; Member, Building Research Advisory Board. Recommended by Landon Butler for reappointment.

Bennie S. Gooden (Mississippi): Vice President, Southland Management Corp.; President, Elderly Housing, Inc. Recommended by Fred Banks, Jr., Executive Director, Mississippi Democratic Party, and Bill Simpson.

Bert Lee (Michigan): Secretary-Treasurer, Southeastern Michigan Building and Construction Trades Council; field investigator, Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council. Recommended by Landon Butler and Rep. Bob Carr.

Clyde MacHenry (District of Columbia): Deputy Assistant Secretary for Housing, HUD; building standards code background. Recommended by Secretary Landrieu.

Vivienne S. Thompson (Massachusetts): Boston Housing Authority Specialist on Handicapped Services; President, Massachusetts Association of Paraplegics, Massachusetts Council of Organizations of the Handicapped; paraplegic Native American. Sarah Weddington concurs.

RECOMMENDATION:

Appoint the above-listed slate as members of the Board of Directors of the National Institute for Building Sciences.

Work Experience Related to Housing

Twofold: (1) Production and (2) Management

- (1) I was successful in winning approval from my church to sponsor a 100-unit 221 (d) (3) Rent Supplement housing complex in Clarksdale. I served as (uncompensated) consultant, coordinating the architect, engineers, contractors, lawyers, mortgage companies, HUD, etc. It was my responsibility to coordinate and direct the actions of all parties from site selection throughout final endorsement and now, management since 1971. This project was conceived at a time when the HUD Area Office advised us that rent supplement funds were exhausted and we could not have the project. We refused to take "no" for an answer and proceeded to deal with national and regional HUD personnel. This necessitated two trips to the Washington HUD Office. Consequently, I was able to develop rapport with national, regional and state HUD personnel, thereby becoming knowledgeable of the workings of HUD.

In 1971 I was employed by Mississippi Industrial and Special Services, Inc. (M.I.S.S.) to manage Chapel Hill Heights and Eastgate Gardens housing projects in Clarksdale, MS. Six months later I was designated Regional Director of M.I.S.S. to supervise several multi-family housing projects, primarily in north Mississippi. Concurrently, M.I.S.S., being a housing management firm, also sponsored the construction of 1000 single-family 235-J homes.

As a sideline, I have worked with many groups with an interest in improved housing for the poor. In 1975 we created a non-profit corporation called Elderly Housing, Inc. and responded to a HUD invitation to construct and own Section 8 housing for the elderly and handicapped. We have been awarded four small projects in northwest Mississippi. Financing will be through the Farmers Home Administration.

I have had experience in proposal writing, site selection, soil investigation reports, mortgage financing, community surveys, sales techniques, HUD processing, etc.

- (2) My housing management experience began in July of 1971. I was engaged to manage two low-rent projects with 100 units each. Within six months I was promoted to a supervising manager's position and given the title of Regional Director. In 1975, our management company created a subsidiary corporation and transferred all management contracts to the new corporation, called Southland Management Corporation. I am primarily responsible for supervising and monitoring multi-family rental projects in north Mississippi. This includes 14 housing sites. I also have managerial responsibilities in 17 other multi-family housing sites in Mississippi and Louisiana.

CONGRESSIONAL SCHEDULING PROPOSAL

MEETING: Photo Session for Ron Wyden (Democratic nominee, Third Congressional District of Oregon)

LENGTH: 3 Minutes

DATE: June 12, 1980

PURPOSE: Photo opportunity

BACKGROUND: Ron Wyden defeated Bob Duncan in the Oregon primary on May 20 by a nearly 20,000-vote margin. No one expected Congressman Duncan to lose in this race.
The fact that he did, combined with Ullman's close call (his Democratic opponent got 45% of the vote), signals the difficulties we are facing in Oregon.

A photo opportunity for Wyden would serve three basic purposes: 1) it would strengthen Wyden's credibility;
2) it could have a spill-over and positive effect on Ullman's race; and 3) it would certainly give the President greater visibility in a key area of the State -- a District which we believe we need to win in order to win the State.

CONGRESSIONAL SCHEDULING PROPOSAL

MEETING: With key members of the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee

LENGTH: 30 minutes

DATE: Any time during the week of June 2, 1980 or after

PURPOSE: To discuss the youth employment initiative

BACKGROUND: We have succeeded in getting a good bill out of Committee in the House, but the proposal is currently stalled in two Subcommittees in the Senate.

We believe that a meeting with the President and these key Senators is needed in order to persuade the members to complete Committee action as soon as possible so that the full Senate can act. Meetings with individual Senators and senior White House Staff have not achieved the desired results.

The next 10 days are critical if we are to secure passage this session.

EVENT DETAILS: Location: The Cabinet Room

Participants: The President, Senators Williams, Pell, Nelson, Javits, Stafford Schweiker and Eagleton, Frank Moore and Stu Eizenstat

Press: White House Photo only

INITIAL REQUESTERS: Frank Moore/Stu Eizenstat

From: Scott Burnett

I. PURPOSE

To greet and thank North Dakota State Senator Walter Erdman for his long hours of hard work on your behalf in the North Dakota Carter/Mondale Campaign.

II. BACKGROUND

A. Background: Senator Erdman and State Representative Tish Kelly are serving as co-chairs of the Carter/Mondale Campaign Committee in North Dakota. Senator Erdman has spent many hours traveling and talking with people in support of your campaign.

The Democratic State Convention was held last Saturday and a last minute blitz by Bobby Kennedy and others caused Kennedy to win 8 delegates and Carter to win 6.

B. Participants: The President
Senator Walter Erdman
Ruth Erdman
