Also included is the Commission's report on world hunger, and interviews with members of the Commission on world hunger. Topics include foreign aid, malnutrition, poverty, and nutrition.

Creator Information: Presidential Commission on World Hunger

The Presidential Commission on World Hunger was established on September 5, 1978, under Executive Order 12078. The purpose of the Commission was to investigate the problem of hunger and malnutrition in the world. The Commission's objective was to gather factual data on the causes and extent of world hunger, make recommendations designed to significantly reduce hunger, and harness available resources toward that goal. They reviewed existing programs including both public and private, and national and international. The commission assessed the extent to which these programs met their objectives.

The Commission consisted of twenty members, sixteen appointed by the President of the United States, and two each appointed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Commission was terminated on June 30, 1980. For further information on the formation and function of the Commission, see the attached Executive Order.

Biographical information on key office personnel is located at the end of the finding aid.
