View this email in your browser

Carter Presidential Library Update

News21-01

January 19, 2021

We and the National Archives are continuing to monitor conditions in Georgia to determine when it is safe for the public to return to the library and museum. In the meantime, you can keep up with us on our webpage, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and our YouTube channel.

From Our Director

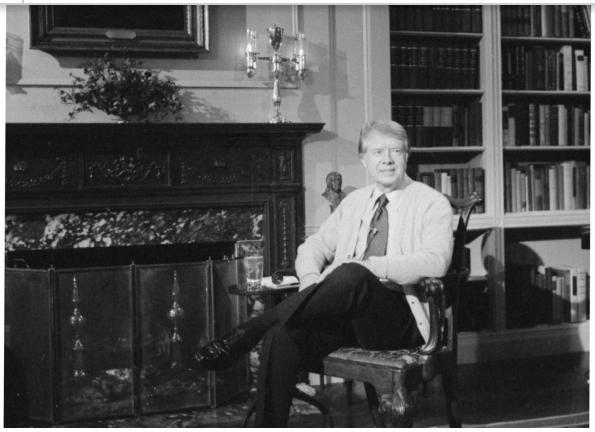

In his January 3, 1978 address to the Parliament of India, President Carter stated that “the experience of democracy is like the experience of life itself -- always changing, infinite in its variety, sometimes turbulent and all the more valuable for having been tested by adversity.” As we enter the new year, I hope that we can all find encouragement in his words.

We are working hard to make the recording of President Carter’s address to the Indian Parliament and so much more available on our YouTube Channel. Follow our account for regular content updates and informative programming.

Happy New Year…..

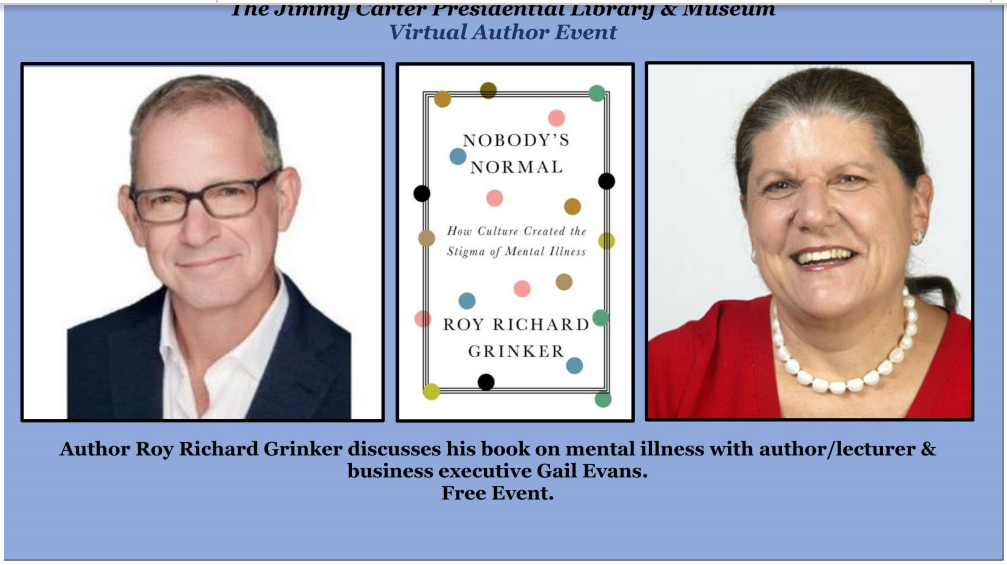

Planning for the Future: President Carter and the Energy Crisis Program
Tuesday, Feb. 2 at 11:00 am & 2:00 pm

Presidential Primary Sources Project, Jimmy Carter Presidential Library and National Archives Education present a discussion of President Carter and the Energy Crisis. On February 2, 1977, less than two weeks after assuming the Presidency, Jimmy Carter addressed the nation in a televised “fireside chat” to speak to Americans about the looming Energy Crisis. Teachers and students Grades 6-12 are invited to join Education Specialist Josh Montanari for this program to examine the circumstances of this historical event and the 39th President’s response to it.

Energy Crisis Discussion

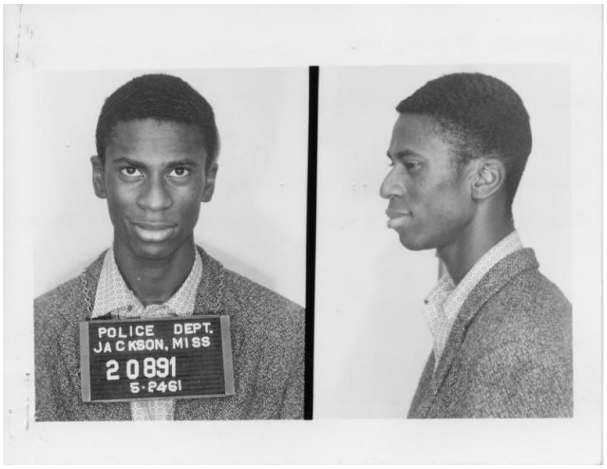

Richard Grinker Author Program
February 2 at 7:00 pm

In Nobody's Normal, anthropologist Roy Richard Grinker chronicles the progress and setbacks in the struggle against mental-illness stigma—from the eighteenth century, through America's major wars, and into today's high-tech economy. It is a compassionate and captivating examination of evolving attitudes toward mental illness throughout history and the fight to end the stigma. Grinker will be in conversation with Gail Evans. This is a free online event.

Nobody's Normal

Bruce Boynton: The Original Freedom Rider

Carter Library archivist Billy Glasco tells the story of how law student Bruce Boynton set the stage for the Freedom Riders in this article for

Rediscovering Black History Blog

The Jimmy Carter Presidential Library YouTube Channel

The Jimmy Carter Presidential Library has its own YouTube Channel. It will enable you to see videos in our audiovisual collections, our holdings, and our facility. Our channel will showcase our public programming and provide a platform for our education-focused programs and teaching tools. Don't miss out on this great opportunity to see things rarely seen from inside our archives.
Become a subscriber here.

The Jimmy Carter Presidential Library

The Jimmy Carter Presidential Library and Museum is part of the National Archives and Records Administration and is dedicated to providing research information and educational materials about the life, career and presidency of Jimmy Carter.

Copyright © 2019 Jimmy Carter Presidential Library , All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Carter.Library@nara.gov

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

This email was sent to Tony.clark@nara.gov
why did I get this? unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences
Jimmy Carter Presidential Library and Museum · 441 John Lewis Freedom Pkwy NE · Atlanta, GA 30307-1496 · USA

