Planning for the Future: President Carter

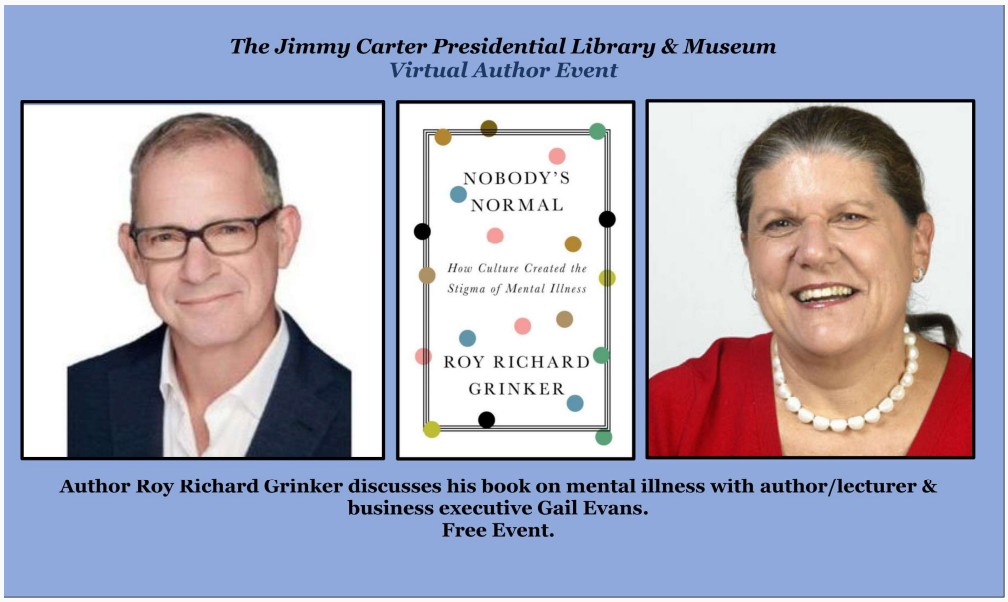

and the Energy Crisis Program
Tuesday, Feb. 2 at 11:00 am & 2:00 pm

Presidential Primary Sources Project, Jimmy Carter Presidential Library and National Archives Education present a discussion of President Carter and the Energy Crisis. On February 2, 1977, less than two weeks after assuming the Presidency, Jimmy Carter addressed the nation in a televised “fireside chat” to speak to Americans about the looming Energy Crisis. Teachers and students Grades 6-12 are invited to join Education Specialist Josh Montanari for this program to examine the circumstances of this historical event and the 39th President’s response to it.

Richard Grinker Author Program
February 2 at 7:00 pm

In Nobody's Normal, anthropologist Roy Richard Grinker chronicles the progress and setbacks in the struggle against mental-illness stigma—from the eighteenth century, through America's major wars, and into today's high-tech economy. It is a compassionate and captivating examination of evolving attitudes toward mental illness throughout history and the fight to end the stigma. Grinker will be in conversation with Gail Evans. This is a free online event.

The Carter Presidential Center Marks World Neglected Tropical Diseases Day

The Carter Presidential Center was lit orange on Friday, January 29th in honor of World Neglected Tropical Disease Day. It's a day to celebrate the progress being made by organizations such as The Carter Center to eradicate diseases such as Guinea Work, River Blindness, Trachoma, Lymphatic Filariasis, and Schistosomiasis. Guided by the vision and passion of Carter Center founders Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter, The Carter Center is a recognized leader in the global fight against neglected tropical diseases (NTDs), focusing efforts to build health and hope in some of the poorest and most isolated places on earth.

The Jimmy Carter Presidential Library Remembers Henry "Hank" Aaron

Statement by President Jimmy Carter-
"Rosalynn and I are saddened by the passing of our dear friend Henry Aaron. One of the greatest baseball players of all time, he has been a personal hero to us. A breaker of records and racial barriers, his remarkable legacy will continue to inspire countless athletes and admirers for generations to come. We send our love to Billye and their family and to Hank's many fans throughout the world."

Inauguration Day 2021

President and Mrs. Carter were unable to attend the inaugural ceremonies in Washington D.C. last month. Instead, President Carter talked to President-elect Biden the night before the inauguration and send a video that became part of the ceremonies. President Carter and President Biden have a long friendship. In 1976, Joe Biden was the first U.S. Senator to endorse the presidential candidacy of Jimmy Carter.
