The Jimmy Carter Presidential Museum is TEMPORARILY CLOSED due to the high number of Covid 19 cases in Fulton County, GA.

From Our Director

Due to an increase in COVID-19 cases in Fulton County, Georgia, the National Archives and Records Administration has closed the Jimmy Carter Presidential Library and Museum in Atlanta. We are making every effort to continue providing essential services and respond to inquiries at carter.library@nara.gov. Our online store services are suspended until our staff are able to work on-site. We will continue to host author programs and educational programing online. You can see listings of our events at www.jimmycarterlibrary.gov, as well as on our facebook, twitter and instagram pages.
We apologize for any inconvenience and appreciate your understanding.

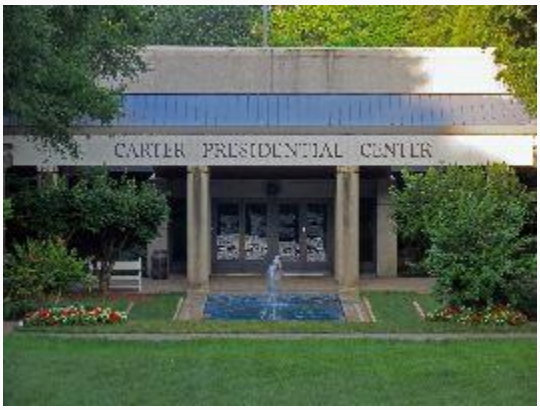

Upcoming Online Author Program
Tuesday, August 17 at 7pm

Chasing me to my Grave is artist Winfred Rembert's posthumous memoir of growing up in a family of Georgia field laborers and joining the Civil Rights Movement as a teenager. He was arrested after fleeing a demonstration, survived a near-lynching at the hands of law enforcement, and spent seven years on chain gangs. During that time he met the undaunted Patsy, who would become his wife. Years later, at the age of fifty-one and with Patsy's encouragement, he started drawing and painting scenes from his youth using leather tooling skills he learned in prison. WABE's Lois Ritzes will be in conversation with Patsy Rembert and co-author Erin Kelly. Details and link at Chasing Me to My Grave.
