MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: James T. McIntyre, Jr. Jim

SUBJECT: Timing of NHI Briefing

As you and I discussed, I am planning to deal with budgetary aspects of National Health Insurance as part of the Health Budget Review with you, now scheduled for May 19. My staff has been working with HEW and with Joe Onek to develop a joint presentation that is a useful background discussion for the decision meetings on NHI principles in the next few months. I value the PRM process highly, and see this initial meeting as an opportunity to strengthen the link between budgetary and other policy decisions. Joe Califano has been out of the country during these recent discussions; he may call you in the next day or so to protest that this schedule undercuts the PRM process. I have no intention to do so, and believe strongly that looking at NHI in the context of overall budgetary and health policy helps rather than hinders the progress of deliberation. I wanted to alert you to the possibility of the call, and to reiterate my concern that we not delay further the discussion of this issue.

APPEAL ON DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY SUPPLY INITIATIVES

C

Background

DOE recommended to the President $349 million in addition to the FY 1979 President's Budget for a series of supply initiatives to supplement the National Energy Plan. The President has allowed the Department to submit a $100 million reprogramming for Solar and Renewable Technologies. Secretary Schlesinger is appealing for authority to reprogram from the FY 1979 base for the remainder of the supply initiatives.

Action

The Administration needs a final decision quickly on the DOE supply initiatives because of the pressure of markup in authorizing and appropriations committees and a Tuesday hearing chaired by Senator Byrd (W. Va.) on DOE's FY 1979 budget.

The basic issues are:

- Funding of Solvent Refined Coal (SRC) Demonstration Plants ($192 million above the FY 1979 Budget).
- High-Btu gas loan guarantees ($30 million more budget authority over the FY 1979 budget; no outlay expected in FY 1979 or subsequent years).
- Technology Demonstration to demonstrate unconventional natural gas ($27 million above the FY 1979 budget).
- Tax credit for small coal technologies.

The attached memoranda set forth the details of the initiatives.

NOTES TO MAJOR ISSUE TALLY

Week Ending 5/12/78

(1) SUPPORT FOR PROTEST AGAINST CAMBODIAN ABUSES (99% Pro)

Writers are reacting to last week's reports on Cambodia by Jack Anderson, and, apparently unaware of the President's April 21 statement, they are calling for a denunciation of the "horrors."

(2) SUPPORT FOR REDUCTION OF MILITARY INSTALLATIONS (100% Con)

Residents and small businessmen near the affected bases fear "economic chaos" and widespread unemployment, and they question the accuracy of the Pentagon's estimate of potential savings.

(3) SUPPORT FOR STATEMENTS ON LEGAL/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (62% Pro)

Congratulating the President for "telling it like it is" and applauding his assessment of "rip-off" fees and services, writers say that their faith in government has been encouraged.

Protest (36%) is voiced nearly unanimously by doctors and lawyers, who demand an apology for "ill-advised" and "unfair" statements. They claim that the President's remarks reflect an "ignorance" of their professions.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

I understand that the reiteration of the longstanding U.S. proposal for a "cut-off" of production of fissionable material for weapons is being considered as a possible move in SSOD. I thought it might be useful to recall that some twenty-one years ago such a proposal was first made by the Eisenhower Administration. At the same time a comprehensive test ban was also proposed. Foster Dulles told the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate that he believed "that the combination of those two undertakings would in fact operate to prevent the spread of weapons to countries other than those which now possess them". I understand that the three succeeding administrations endorsed the "cut-off".

I hope that in your consideration of this thorny issue you will give full weight to the benefits which might flow from such a proposal for the implementation of your nonproliferation policy.

May 12, 1978

Mrs. Rosalynn Carter
1600 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mrs. Carter:

At the suggestion of your sister-in-law, Ruth, I attempted to contact you before I left for Uganda two weeks ago. It seemed impossible because of your previous commitments to make contact then, and again you are out of the city. At the suggestion of your social secretary, I am writing a cover letter just to state a few facts here that will help you to understand what this is all about.

No doubt you will remember visiting Melodyland, speaking to our prayer group at the Grand Hotel previous to the election of your husband. Many prayers have gone up for your administration and we love you deeply and support you in the great work that God has led you into.

Six weeks ago, through an unbelievable circumstance, 13 evangelical leaders were guests of the governments of Egypt, Jordan and Israel. The group was called the Evangelical Fact Finding Mission and was composed of men like Jerry Falwell, Dr. John Warrick Montgomery, a Lutheran scholar, Christian editors and news services. We had opportunity to personally pray with and minister to Mr. Sadat, the Crown Prince of Jordan, and Mr. Begin. To each of them we gave a plaque with the scripture Isaiah 15:23-25, showing how Israel, Egypt and Syria will come together. They all seemed very responsive to this passage from the Bible. Mr. Sadat suggested that we carry the message to Mr. Begin that he intends to build on Mt. Sinai, in October, a mosque, a synagogue, and a church. I felt so strongly that if there was any way that a world day of prayer could be called of these three major religions, and if perhaps President Carter, Sadat and Begin could pray together, the special key might be given that could bring a solution to the Middle East problem.

Three weeks ago, upon my return from the Middle East, I told our congregation of 12,000, plus our television audience of 20 million, that I believed God will touch the hearts of leaders if Christians will earnestly pray for them. One of our students from Uganda sat in that meeting and he and his wife were deeply moved to pray. This Ugandan student attends Melodyland School of Theology, which is the sixth largest seminary in the United States. Through an unbelievable circumstance we were able to call the office of President Idi Amin and an invitation arrived the next morning by Telex for us to be his guests. I went to the State Department here in Washington and talked to them about this situation after reading nothing but negative reports of this man. In no way would I desire to go except through a Divine compulsion. I had an overwhelming love and prayer burden for Idi Amin and felt I must go regardless of total opposition. I took with me the Ugandan student plus two of my staffers, one of whom is my son-in-law, Mike Dabney, who served as a missionary in Kenya during the worst times of the Ugandan uprising.

I wanted to tell you that I have never seen such a great miracle. First, in no way were we pre-conditioned; they did not even know us and it was an act of God that we were allowed to enter the country. God gave us favor with every person in leadership. We talked to people in the streets without any kind of restrictions, and were interviewed by various forms of media, including television broadcast. We spoke with missionaries; one of our missionaries has built over 500 churches in Uganda and is now residing in Kenya.

One of the most remarkable changes is now in the process of taking place. I realize when I make these kinds of statements I take the chance of being grossly misunderstood because of the past performance of this leader. However, when Jesus said "pray for your enemies," He also meant for us to love them. Somewhere in our Christian context there must be room for a person to change if he should choose. I spent more than 18 hours personally with Idi Amin while I was there and had opportunity to pray with him and talk to him about the Lord. I prayed on National TV (at their request), saw Gideon Bibles in every one of the hotels and in the bookstores. Some reports that were in the news concerning leaders being incarcerated were untrue, for at the very moment we heard that news we were sitting with them at dinner in Uganda. I fear that some of the stories are not coming straight, for practically all of our news source is from Kenya and from exiles.

The writing of this letter from Idi Amin was not his idea but mine. I realize the ideological war that is going on and maybe it is not even possible for you to consider this. I have not released any of this to the news, for I am not seeking publicity but rather, solutions to the problems. I was invited to appear on the ABC "Good Morning America" show today and I declined for I felt that maybe I would say something that would affect the cause.

Mrs. Carter, I feel that it is going to take a drastic step, like Mr. Sadat going to Israel, for Idi Amin to open up to the free world. There is still time. The Communists in no way have accomplished their purpose. This man is not only reaching out but must be helped. I know that he has the ear of many of the African nations that have been most negative and have been killers. I believe that God has set Christians at the helm of our leadership in America to become a catalyst and perhaps change the entire course of history at this time.

If you should like to talk to me further about my observations or if in any way I may be of help to you, our President or Congressmen, I am available.

I want to end this letter by telling you that our prayers are for you and your husband, that God will give great wisdom. These are days of great miracles. If God can change Saul of Tarsus, He can change any man. We must not limit Him. The scriptures tell us to "love our enemies."

Sincerely,

Dr. Ralph Wilkerson

THE REPUBLIC OF UGANDA

Kampala: 9th May, 1978

Dear Mr. President,

I have the honour to inform you that this past week we have had the pleasure to receive guests from the United States of America, who have shown true love for us and have been an inspiration to our people.

Dr. Ralph Wilkerson of Melodyland in California has spoken highly of his President and his lovely wife. He also has spoken of her great help in bringing love and peace between nations and how successful she has been.

I believe that we are at a point in history when we must forgive and forget the past. The present and the future are too important for the whole world not to work together.

Dr. Wilkerson suggested that either you, Mr. President or your wife might visit us to form a bridge of love. I can assure you of the utmost safety, respect and reception. No doubt this is a major step for you - but all leaders must dare to move together.

Surely, God has placed both of us in history to bring peace to our two worlds. We are in a position right now where many impossible situations can be changed.
